

Saigh Indicted On Income Tax Evasion Charges

St. Louis—(U.P.)—Fred F. Saigh Jr., president of the St. Louis Cardinals, said Wednesday he "cannot understand" why a federal grand jury indicted him on five charges of income tax evasion.

Saigh, a 47-year-old lawyer who made a quick fortune in real estate deals prior to buying control of the National league club in 1949, was charged with evading taxes on personal and corporate income of $108,823.

The first two counts of the indictment charged him with signing false returns on personal income and failing to pay taxes of $13,262 in 1946 and $14,351 in 1947.

The third count accuses Saigh, as vice-president of the Cardinals, of falsely listing corporate income of $1,440,497 in 1948 instead of the true figure of $1,463,275 and of paying $8,655 less taxes than the baseball club owed.

The fourth and fifth counts said that Saigh filed joint returns on his home and his wife's personal income for the years 1948 and 1949, and debated the correctness of the tax payments he made for those years—$8,604 in 1948 and $4,748 in 1949.

Saigh was in Cincinnati attending a game between the Cards and Reds Tuesday night when he was told of the indictments. He left his box at Crosley field and flew back to St. Louis.

The Lakers lead the best-of-seven series, three games to two, and need only a win on the 69th Regiment Armory floor to take the league title.

Good Attendance Anticipated for Softball Session

Indication of a good attendance at the softball meeting set for 8 p.m. Thursday at the YMCA was indicated today.

Reorganization of the Medford Softball association is the purpose of the meeting.

Those planning the meeting said that a number of persons or firms who fielded teams in the past have been contacted, have expressed interest in rejoining the league and have said they plan to attend the meeting.

There has been no softball league play in Medford for several years.

All persons interested in playing or in sponsoring teams are invited to the Thursday session.

Jim Rivera Spurs Team

St. Louis, Mo.—(U.P.)—Jim Rivera, a hell-for-leather base runner has given the St. Louis Browns more fire and color than owner Bill Veeck's fireworks.

Tuesday night he got his 10th hit in 29 trips and scored twice. His first inning sacrifice bunt was flubbed by jittery Cleveland pitcher Mike Garcia for an error.

And his seventh inning hopper was a hit because he moved down the first base line like a rocket in uniform. He is now batting .345.

Arcaro Feels Hill Gail Best Entry in Derby

New York—(U.P.)—Eddie Arcaro, the king of Kentucky Derby jockeys, said Wednesday there are "no Citations" in this year's renewal but he figured he had a good chance to score his fifth victory in the Churchill Downs race with Calumet Farm's Hill Gail.

"This looks like a weak derby because there are no Citations among this year's three-year-olds but right now I wouldn't trade places with any other jockey," Arcaro said. "I think I have the best colt in the Derby in Hill Gail."

Calumet trainer Ben Jones indicated Hill Gail will run in next Tuesday's Derby trial and Arcaro said he would be there to handle the dark bay colt in the pre-Derby event.

Seattle—(U.P.)—Bob Bell bested Rod Keogh in a tight pitching duel Tuesday as the Washington Huskies defeated Washington State 3-1 to make it two straight over the Cougars.

Federal Funds Said Possible for New City Fire Equipment

The Medford city council was told last night there is a possibility of obtaining federal funds to assist in purchasing fire fighting equipment for Medford, through the civilian defense program.

Correspondence with Col. C. E. Stafford, county civil defense director, has indicated that if federal funds are granted by request of the city through the CD agency, it would amount to about 50 per cent of the amount for needed equipment.

Councilmen indicated the need for about $4,000 in minor equipment such as new hoses, and a $12,000 pumper truck.

Secondary Target
Councilman John Snider stated that the possibility of obtaining such aid appears to be good because Medford has been designated "a secondary target area" by civil defense headquarters.

In other business, the council authorized Mayor D. L. Flynn and Snider, as chairman of the airport committee, to attend retirement ceremonies for Gen. Junius Jones Saturday, April 25, at McClellan field, Calif. Councilman Harold Frye, and others, pointed out that the city has received "wonderful cooperation" from General Jones during the time he has been commandant of the air force air material command.

The council also authorized Vernon Thorpe, public works superintendent, to act for City Superintendent Robert Duff during this week. Duff is attending a Pacific northwest sectional meeting of the American Water Works association in Spokane. He is an official of the association.

Paving Approved
Paving of Haven street from Summit to Oak streets was approved by the council following a public hearing at which no opposition was voiced to the project.

The council called for bids on 10 paving projects. They included Peach street from Dakota to Stewart avenues, Dakota avenue from Plum to Hamilton streets, Third street from Ivy to Grape streets, Fifth street from Oakdale avenue to Grape street, Wilson place from Eastwood to Keenway drives, Grant street from Dakota to Stewart avenues, Washington street from West Main to West 10th street, Haven street from Summit to Oak street and from Columbus avenue to Summit street, and Jasper street from Melrose to Stewart avenues.

A request from the Jackson County Health department for budget consideration for the coming fiscal year was referred to the council finance committee for further study and report. (See Story on Page 1)

Detroit—(U.P.)—The Communist Party Wednesday obtained a Federal Court order restraining Michigan law enforcement agencies from enforcing the state's new subversive-control law until May 20.

The new law required that Communists register with state police by Wednesday, but Communist leaders have said flatly that all members of the party will defy the law.
