Scouters Camp-O-Ree Expected To Attract 300 Boys This Year

Scout officials expect 300 boys from the Ashland and Big Pines districts to attend the 1952 Camp-O-Ree this Saturday and Sunday at the Hill Top ranch, 2 1/2 miles west of the Griffin Creek Grange.

John Patton, Big Pines district chairman, is in charge of arrangements, assisted by John Eddy, district commissioner. Ray Johnson is in charge of special "secret" event of the week-end with Bob Church, Carl Olson and Duke Gladfelter in charge of other events.

Program Begins Saturday's program will include arrival at the designated place from 10 to 11:30 a.m. with a hike to the campsite. Judges will pick the winners of the hike based on packs, appearance and selection of campsite. Following lunch, a flag raising and opening ceremony will be held at 1:30 p.m. Camp will be set up from 1:45 to 4 p.m.

A special event Saturday evening will be the Indian dance at the campfire presented by the Order of Arrow, campers' honorary. Officials hope that the Camp-O-Ree will provide many values for the scouts such as improvement of equipment for camping, greater skills, more enjoyment, strengthening the patrol system, development of leadership, pride in achievement and character values through actual living in camp under Scout conditions and in fellowship with other scouts.

Engineers To Survey Three NW Harbors

Portland—(U.P.)—Three representatives of the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors of the Corps of Engineers were in Portland Thursday to start a detailed survey of the harbors and facilities of Astoria, Portland, Longview and Vancouver. Jack V. Skillman and Donald D. Allen, both engineers, will cover the entire waterfronts, while James H. John, transportation analyst, will survey the transportation aspects.

Around Hollywood

Hollywood—(U.P.)—Anne Baxter, billed as one of the finest dramatic movie actresses, yawned this reputation makes her sound "inhibited and dull" and she'd rather unveil her sex appeal. Miss B. has an Oscar at home and another academy nomination to brag about. But this accolade to her histrionic abilities, she announces, has kept her sex appeal in shackles.

So she's turned blonde, slimmed down her hips and snared a role in a movie in which she does an Egyptian belly dance while wearing a topaz in her navel. "I've been presented as terribly nice, a good actress, wife and mother," she sighed. "This is wonderful—but it's not interesting, is it? That's not what actresses are supposed to be."

"I'm no holier-than-thou. I'm not Gree-ah Gahson. But the way I've been presented, I'd be bored with myself if I really were that way. I wouldn't even invite me to dinner." The picture, she went on, "is hating me."

Activians Planning Convention Contest

A public speaking contest for Activians will be held in connection with the state convention of Active clubs here this week-end.

The contest, open to chosen delegates from each of the Active clubs in the state will be held at the Saturday noon luncheon at the Medford hotel. Judges will be Jimmy Dunlevy, manager of radio station KYJC; Devere Taylor, speech instructor at the Medford senior high school, and Dan Hull, governor of the southern Oregon-northern California area of Toastmasters International.

The convention will open with a party for early arrivals Friday evening at the Medford hotel. Business sessions will start Saturday at 10 a.m.

George Rossman, associate justice of the Oregon Supreme court, will be the speaker at the Saturday evening banquet for Activians and wives. Al Bradford, lieutenant governor of the Oregon district, Active International, is convention chairman.

Ida Lupino Duff Bears Tiny Baby Wednesday

Hollywood—(U.P.)—Screen star Ida Lupino gave birth prematurely to a 4-pound, 3-ounce daughter Wednesday night at Temple hospital. Miss Lupino, wife of screen actor Howard Duff, was reported in good condition. The baby, named Bridget, was placed in an incubator and also was reported in good condition.

keep my private life private, but go all out during business hours," she decided, patting her plunging neckline. "This isn't a new me—it's the way I am at home around my friends. "Oh, we do all sorts of unmentionable things at home, only now I can put them on the screen in 'My Wife's Best Friend.' The censors won't mind, either. With me, they'll just say, what great acting!"

Miss Baxter is so intent upon playing a glamour girl that she's even boned up on how to talk like one to the press. Ann did a little home work, typed out what she wanted to say in our interview and brought three pages of notes along.

Afraid Before "I've been afraid to do this before," the shapely star explained, "for fear reporters would think I was silly."

According to Ann's thesis on glamour, as she read it, "men have more glamour than women. . . . In a woman, glamour is like a mint julep to a parched man on a hot day with a ticket on the derby winner. . . ."

She beamed, "I like that phrase, don't you?" "My grandfather, Frank Lloyd Wright, the architect," she added, "wore only a red sash on his wedding night. That's glamour."

Miss Baxter hopes this new trend in her movie roles will bring her a different type of fan mail. She now gets letters complimenting her on fine performances.

"I'd like to get the other kind, too," she said. "Including those that say let me have your bra strap for my memory book."

faith and friendship walk hand in hand

Millions of Americans this month are making it a special point to invite their friends into their churches —as freely and frequently as they ask them to their homes. You'll find that SHARING your faith does something for you, and for your friends as well . . . it grows when it's shared . . . and your friendships grow, too.

Take someone to church this week . . . you'll both be richer for it
