

Wertz Watercolors To Be Reproduced By Ford Company

The Ford Motor company has purchased eight pictures of Jacksonville painted by Fritz Wertz, valley artist, for use in the Ford Times magazine. Mr. Wertz announced last week. Mr. Lougee, art editor of the magazine, has written Mr. Wertz stating the pictures will be reproduced in the August, 1952, edition.

The eight watercolors are from a collection of 22 which Mr. Wertz has exhibited from time to time. They are entitled "The Old Jackson County Court-house," "The Orth Building," "The Lyden House," "The U. S. Hotel," "Redman Hall," "Masonic Hall with Stagecoach and Horses," "Table Rock From the Old Stagecoach Road" and "Jim Cornutt's Ranch." The Table Rock scene also includes a panoramic view of the Rogue River valley. The Cornutt ranch located a short distance from Gold Hill on the old stagecoach road, was an overnight stop for the stage on its route from Portland through Jacksonville to Ashland and Dunsmuir, Calif.

The original 22 watercolors were exhibited last May at the Hostess House of the Portland Oregonian. Catherine Jones Bolam, art editor of the paper, wrote Mr. Wertz that the show excited much interest and that she held the show over because the pictures of the historic old town and its surrounding countryside had so much popular appeal.

Phoenix Society Gives Silver Tea at Church; Medford Woman Speaks

Phoenix — Mrs. D. Kirkland West, Medford, spoke to Women's Missionary society members during a silver tea given Wednesday by the group in the church. Though attended by a small group of women, the tea was considered a success.

The program was conducted by the president, Mrs. George Osler. Devotions were led by Mrs. J. O. N. Poling.

The theme for both Mrs. West's talk and Mrs. Poling's devotions was stewardship. Mrs. West brought out that all those present had much to give to others in the way of time, prayer and friendliness.

Mrs. J. W. Watkins and Mrs. Floyd Jarmin poured. The refreshment table was covered with a lace cloth and silver service was used. A floral center piece and candles furnished the decorations.

Small tables were used about the room and were centered with miniature bouquets and candles. Mrs. Jewell Parr was responsible for the decorating.

The kitchen committee was Mrs. L. O. Caster, chairman, assisted by Mrs. W. M. Caldwell and Mrs. E. J. Clark.
