

Benefit Tea Wednesday Aids Annual Fund Drive

One of the largest social events of the past week was the benefit tea given by the Jackson county committee of American Cancer society. The tea, held at Hillcrest orchard, attracted a large number of Medford and Jackson county women.

So successful was the tea, first of this nature sponsored by the committee, that it was decided during the course of the afternoon to make it an annual event.

Displays of hobby and antique collections made the event highly interesting to the visitors. Mrs. H. A. Davis' collection of hand-made dolls excited much comment. Mrs. Davis fashions the artistic little figures from pearls, makes authentic clothing, complete to eyeglasses and jewelry, and sometimes arranges them in family groups with small furniture pieces and household articles. Included in her display Wednesday were Grandma Howell, Winter Nell and Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett, named the "Pear-sall family" and two others were Comte D'Anjou and Madame Du Comice.

Mrs. Davis also displayed Indian dolls.

Mrs. Warren Bayliss displayed souvenir spoons from many nations, and one table held antique glassware owned by Mrs. W. J. Warner. Mrs. Raymond Miksche, Mrs. F. T. Burich and Mrs. Bayard Getchell. One particularly interesting display was an arrangement, under glass, of shell and seaweed flowers made by Mrs. Miksche.

Some of the displays were on tables covered with handwoven covers loaned by Mrs. Warner, and one of these held a set of willowware owned by Mrs. Tim Daily. Mrs. Miksche and Mrs. Getchell both displayed antique glass, and Mrs. Milton Schuchard had loaned antique candle holders, an old candle mold and antique oil lamps.

A large display of Indian baskets were from the collection of Mrs. R. W. Frame, and Mrs. Paul Meyers displayed souvenir spoons. Georgian silver owned by Mrs. Shelby M. Tuttle was shown on an antique scarf owned by Mrs. C. Reese Bailey.

Mrs. Joseph Antony displayed a number of china and bisque figurines. Mrs. Antony owns both German and American with the traditional and modern making for interesting comparisons. Antique clocks collected by Dr. B. B. Bartels were displayed on an old scarf loaned by Mrs. Herman Powell.

One table held Ginori china from Mrs. Miksche's collection, old tea pots and pitchers owned by Mrs. Raymond Fish and Czechoslovakian crystal owned by Dr. Antony.

Also displayed were fans collected by Mrs. John S. Day, chairman of the county cancer committee. The fans, some of exquisite design and material, were displayed on the piano in the living room.

Miniature cars were displayed by Jack Lynch. One which brought exclamations all afternoon was a model of an old Stutz Bearcat painted yellow and with red and white upholstery on the little seats.

In the hallway Mrs. Charles W. Lemery displayed miniature

Research Restores Many Missing Pages From Bizet Opera

New York—(U.P.)—Some missing pages from Bizet's "Carmen" were restored in a presentation of the work by the New England Opera Theater at the Boston Opera House.

The restoration comprised 41 pages in Act III of the original score which are not included in standard editions. Boris Goldovsky, director of the opera, dug them up after extensive research in Europe. They were found in an old book on Bizet which had reprinted them. A study of Bizet's original manuscript in the library of the Paris Conservatoire indicated the omissions.

The manuscript also indicated that a section of 16 pages and another of nine pages had been dropped from the first act. Goldovsky is still searching for those, having enlisted the co-operation of the Library of Congress and the State Department in Washington in searching the music libraries and archives of Europe.

Plan Dinner

Scouts, parents and leaders of Boy Scout Troop 8, Medford, will meet Tuesday, April 29, for the annual charter dinner at the Episcopal church parish hall. The covered-dish dinner is scheduled for 6:30 p.m.

The program this year will be unique in Troop 8 history, according to Elwood B. Hedberg, chairman of the troop committee. Awards to be given will show all phases of scouting, from a tenderfoot investiture through the highest rank in scouting, Eagle.

The troop's charter for the rooms. These are filled with small furniture and household articles, many of which Mrs. Lemery makes herself. She fashions chandeliers from glass beads, for instance, and what looked like an old-fashioned mirror with candle holders at the sides was originally a brooch.

Mrs. Miksche and Mrs. Getchell had arranged flowers with a number of the displays. These blended with the various articles in color and form and in many instances heightened considerably the effectiveness of the displays.

Pouring for the tea were Mesdames C. I. Drummond, Edwin R. Durno, Dwight Findley, James C. Hayes, William W. P. Holt, L. Paul Walker, B. R. Thierolf, George Rasmussen, Charles W. Lemery and B. L. Lageson. Arrangements of pink tulips centered the tea table.

Members of the county cancer committee were hostesses.
