

New Prospect Mission Holds First Service

Prospect—the first religious service at the recently-organized Episcopal mission here was held in the Community hall Sunday evening. They were conducted by the Rev. R. V. Bolster, rector of St. Mark's Episcopal church, Medford, assisted by the Rev. J.M.B. Gill and St. Mark's Girls' choir.

A group of Medford and Prospect worshippers attended the service which is the first of a series to be held in the area by visiting clergymen and lay readers until the mission obtains its own minister.

The mission is being assisted by the St. Mark's congregation.

Trend Toward Festivals
Since the state music contest was abandoned several years ago, many districts have been moving towards the clinic or festival idea, without ratings or the element of a contest, Mirick said. He pointed out that the success of such a festival is measured in
