

As We Live

By ELIZABETH HURLOCK, PH.D.

USE ENERGY TO DECORATE—THEN BRING BOY HOME

A girl's home is her "setting". It is the background which reflects the kind of family she has and the kind of upbringing she has had to mold her into the person she is today. Girls soon become aware of this. And, when they begin to have dates, they know the boys judge them by their homes and compare their home with those of the other girls they date. Consequently, the girl has reason to be concerned if her home setting does not measure up favorably with that of other girls. This problem is reflected in the following letter from an 18-year-old girl.

(Q) "I'm ashamed of my home. I have gone out with many boys but I always meet them outside. Mom, Dad, and I are the only ones at home now and I try to buy things out of my pay to make the house look nice, but it never does. We haven't even a parlor set. I like a boy now and I know he is well-to-do and has a nice home. I would like him to meet by parents as they are wonderful people, but I'm ashamed to bring him home. What shall I do?"

If you are ashamed of your home, you would be so ill-at-ease if you brought this boy to meet your parents that it would be awkward for all concerned. At the same time, you do not want to continue to meet boys away from your home. It will create an unfavorable and unfair impression of you and your family. Pitch in as team.

It does not take much money to make a home attractive. If you and your family are willing to pitch in and work as a team, with a few dollars and a week or two of hard work, you should be able to transform your home so that even you would not recognize it.

Start with the front hall and

Radio Model Shown At Prop Nuts Flight

Harold Reed, Crescent City, gave a demonstration of his radio-controlled model airplane at a flight contest conducted on the Agate desert Sunday morning by the Prop Nuts, Medford model airplane club.

Reed's remotely-controlled plane created considerable interest among the members of the Medford club, and several of them are planning to construct similar craft.

All the flights were not completed during the day, due to winds which came up in the early afternoon. Results of those which were held were:

Novices, all classes, Joe Fritz, Medford, first; Jerry Day, Medford, second.

Class A open, Ken Damwood, Crescent City, first; Lawrence Miles, Medford, second; Lew Miles, Medford, third.

A, B, C, open, Lew Miles, first, Lawrence Miles, second.

the living room. That is where a boy would be when he came to see you. Then, later, as time and money permit, you can fix up the dining room and the bedrooms.

Can Cover Furniture
There are plenty of attractive papers and paints that can be applied by an amateur. No matter how shabby your furniture, it can be covered with bright slip covers to harmonize with the paper. A pattern of some inexpensive material, and willingness to work is all you need to do the job. And, even an amateur can make attractive window draperies.

Boys don't notice details. If a room is bright, cheerful, and in good taste, they carry away with them a favorable impression of it. I can assure you that your friend would never notice the quality of the material or of the workmanship if the total effect of the room was good.

If you have a problem about family or friend, ask Dr. Hurlock to help you. Write in care of this newspaper.
