

DON'T TAKE OFF YOUR HATS, FOLKS—That's George Kaplan hitting the deck as Harry Matthews of Seattle dances over him at San Francisco's Winterland. Matthews had just thrown a left hook to dispose of the big New Yorker in 1 minute 16 seconds of the first round. Most spectators hadn't yet settled in their seats when the scheduled 10-rounder came to an early end.

Fishery Agent Requests Anglers To Throw Back Spawmed-out Fish

Many "spawned-out" steelhead, presently in poor condition for eating, will still be in upper Rogue waters when trout season opens Saturday, Game Commission Fishery Agent Cole Rivers, Grants Pass, reported. He urged anglers to release these ocean-bound steelhead so that they may return next winter as prime fish with more pounds and fight. Rivers attributes the abundance of steelhead now in the Rogue system, and especially the

Kentucky Policy Probe Ordered

Chicago—(U.P.)—Press accounts of a New York judge's angry criticism of Kentucky Basketball Coach Adolph Rupp "were of such substance that they at least demanded that an inquiry be made at Kentucky," the president of the National Collegiate Athletic Association said Thursday.

President Hugh C. Willett, who ordered the probe of Kentucky athletic policy Wednesday, said it "is certainly true that we will make an investigation."

Gambling Discussed
In New York Tuesday, Judge Saul Streit, in a statement from the bench, accused Rupp of freely discussing gambling in the Kentucky locker room and of even berating his players when a friend of Rupp's lost a bet on a basketball game.

Streit also charged that Kentucky had spent $100,000 in building up its 1951 cage squad and said that cribbing in examinations was "encouraged and tolerated."

Pads Nab 7th From Seals; Saveson Eyes Opportunity

San Francisco—(U.P.)—Venerable Jack Saveson, only a season or two away from Social Security, will be smiling Thursday night at game time when he unlimbers his 40-year-old right arm. He knows he'll be the luckiest pitcher in the Pacific Coast league.

Saveson, with 198 PCL mound victories to his credit, dreams that this season he'll reach the 200 mark. And quick-pitching Jack thinks he'll have an easy shot at number 197 Thursday night—at the expense of the San Francisco Seals.

Flingers on the San Diego mound staff gleefully anticipate assignments to work against San Francisco. Padre Manager Frank O'Doul, whose southpaw golf swing was banned from Seals stadium after 17 years, seems to have the evil eye on his old workman. And his pitching staff is eager to capitalize on the "O'Doul Jinx."

Seven of Nine
The Padres have won seven of nine outings against the Seals. San Diego's Art Dollaghan, with help from Senor Al Benton, posted number seven Wednesday night, by a 7-4 score. Seal Pitchers Al Lien, Matt Zidich and Bill Boemler got bumped for six runs in the first inning while O'Doul hurt his abdomen laughing.

Seattle, playing like they were advertised to play, worked over Los Angeles, 15-6, for the second straight night; and Hollywood fractured Sacramento, 9-5. Portland sat out its date at Oakland due to wet grounds, but the teams will play twice tonight to make up the postponement.

Seal Manager Tommy Heath frowned as he watched the O'Doul's abuse his pitchers in the first frame. Lien walked Tobin to start his end. Dain Clay singled, Jack Graham did too, and Lien hit John Davis with a pitched ball. When the blond southpaw walked Lou Klein, he took a hike in favor of Zidich. Allen Richter welcomed young Matt with a triple, and scored on an error.
Suds Work Quickly
Seattle did things quickly, too. The Suds got four runs in the first, three on George Vico's homer. In the fourth, Seattle

MEDFORD TRIBUNE SPORTS

MEDFORD SQUADS BILL KLAMATH FALLS ACTION

Medford high athletes will go over the mountain to Klamath Falls this week-end.

Squads in three Black Tornado sports will make the journey to Pelican town. The tennis and baseball teams go to Klamath on Friday and the track team will make the trip on Saturday.

Medford's improving netmen will vie in the district tennis tournament on Friday. Their hopes will be high since they have posted victories over both Ashland and Klamath Falls in their best season in recent years. The baseball team will participate in its final district game. Medford has already clinched the district mantle but can wind up with an undefeated mark in its A-1 area by licking the Peis. So far the Medford diamond record is spotless against prep competition. Only Tornado loss was to the University of Oregon jayvees last week.

Tornado trackmen haven't seen interscholastic rivalry for better than one week. They wallowed Ashland on April 23. This week-end the meet is the Klamath invitational.

With Grants Pass and Ashland absent the meet has been demphasized this year. Grants Pass and Ashland have a dual test this week-end. Medford swamped Klamath Falls in a session earlier this season.

Coach Bob Newland will take a squad of 38 cindermen to Klamath.

Softballers To Meet at YMCA Today

The Medford Softball association season will get underway with an opening bout June 13 with regular league play to commence the following week. It was reported today.

A second meeting on organization of softball league play for this summer is scheduled at 8 p.m. today at the Medford YMCA. Plans for the season will be discussed and it is hoped to elect new officers at the session.

Sponsors or representatives of teams are asked to post their entry fees. A sum of $25 was agreeable to those who attended the first meeting at the Y last Thursday. Entry of at least seven teams was foreseen last week. Loop organizers hope for 10 or more crews.

All interested sponsors and players are invited to the session. The circuit is not limited solely to Medford teams. Ray Lewis, president of the association when it was last operating, Bob Jones, YMCA secretary, and Hugh Williams, made arrangements with E. H. Hedrick, city school superintendent, for use of the field.
