

Central Point Doctor Speaks Monday Night

Dr. Alvin Roberts, Central Point, spoke to a group of practical nurses at a meeting of Jackson County Licensed Practical Nurses' association Monday evening at Sacred Heart hospital.

Dr. Roberts talked about the life of the citizen of Japan from the cradle to the grave. He told of the high infant mortality rate and the diseases that beset the child and adult. Dr. Roberts also told of the efforts being made to raise the standards of medical and nurse education and of the vast differences apparent in all phases of medical and surgical procedures in Japan as compared with the United States.

A refresher course which is being planned for all practical nurses was discussed and plans made to get the course under way in the near future. It was hoped that all practical nurses in the area would attend the next regular meeting and co-operate with the planning for the course.

Spiritual Security Theme Announced For Annual Event

May Fellowship day, which is one of three special days observed by 1800 Councils of Church Women in the United States, will be of outstanding interest in Medford to the Medford Council, it is said. This year the program holds many features of present day concern under the theme "Spiritual Security For Today's Families."

Mrs. D. Kirkland West will be the speaker for the luncheon to be held in the new addition of First Presbyterian church Friday, May 2, at 12:30 o'clock. Mrs. Owen Kunkel is general chairman.

Living pictures depicting Christian influences in the home will be presented under the guidance of Mrs. Harlan Bosworth Jr. Special music by the Methodist church women's trio is included on the program, with Mrs. C. A. Adamson as accompanist.

Mrs. J. R. Sides will be leader for the devotional program.

An atmosphere of spring will be created by the decorating committee composed of Mrs. M. E. Sands and Mrs. L. D. Inskip. Mrs. Lyle Sams is in charge of table arrangement.

May Fellowship Day is one phase of the Christian social relations programs in the affiliated churches of the council and it is deemed an occasion for special recognitions. Wives of the Medford church ministers will be special guests for the Friday luncheon, according to officers of the council.

While this day of fellowship calls for some form of united service it is considered less formal in nature than that of World Day of Prayer or World Community Day and is designed to unite women in fellowship and action toward the advancement of the ecumenical movement, it is stated by council heads.

Mrs. Kunkel states that tickets to the luncheon are still available through church offices and group leaders, and will also be

Teamsters Union Said To Realize Danger to Economy

The Teamsters union, realizing that the country today is operating under a virtual wartime economy, and that it is highly possible that the "balloon may burst" at any time, seeks to be as moderate as possible on demands on the trucking industry, Robert Shaw, secretary and treasurer of the Teamsters Union here, said at a Rotary club luncheon meeting Tuesday at the Jackson hotel.

"We have entered politics not from choice but for self-preservation," Shaw told Rotarians. He said political activity of the union is in the interest of protecting the trucking industry and safeguarding the interests of business generally as well as its own. Almost every business enterprise today is directly or indirectly affected by truck transportation, he pointed out.

Labor "Builds Monster"

Shaw, who was associated with a Seattle distributing firm before identifying himself with the Teamsters union through the Western Conference of Teamsters, voiced the opinion that in the case of the current steel dispute, "labor is building up a monster that will come back to haunt them."

He scored the tactics of John L. Lewis' mine workers.

The Teamsters union has a firm policy of operating "within the law," Shaw emphasized. The effect of Harry Bridges' longshore strike a few years ago in Seattle is still felt, and Teamsters realize that radical labor action which cripples industry cannot help but have serious consequences for labor, industry and the country as a whole, he said.

The enlightened leadership of Dave Beck, Teamsters union head, was described, and Beck's open opposition to socialized medicine, and similar socialistic program outlined by the speaker. Encouragement of free enterprise has always been recognized as in the best interests of organized labor by Beck and his associates, Shaw concluded.

Robert Shaw was introduced by William A. Gates, program chairman. Vice-President Kenneth Denman presided.

Rotary club President George Gates and Mrs. Gates, President-elect Shelby Tuttle and Mrs. Tuttle, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Lovejoy and Mr. and Mrs. Hal Edwards returned this week from Bend, where they attended a district conference of Rotary International. More than 500 attended the banquet which climaxed the meeting, and a feature of the program was a series of tribal dances of the Warm-springs Indians, presented by Boy Scouts from the Warm-springs reservation at Madras.

Special Draft Exam Scheduled at SOC

Ashland—A special administration of the Selective Service college qualification test will be given at Southern Oregon college May 22, it was announced today by Dr. John A. Schulz, director of the testing bureau. The examination is being repeated for the benefit of students who were unable to take the earlier tests.

Persons intending to take the examination are advised to obtain application blanks at once from local draft boards, Dr. Schulz said. Forms must be post-marked not later than May 10.

Nineteen students took the April 24 test which will be used by Selective Service boards in establishing deferment policies.
