Medford Candidate For GOP Delegate Will Return Soon

Lt. Catherine Holtz, whose parents live at 2121 Jackson street, will return to Medford soon to open her campaign for election as a delegate at large to the Republican national convention, her father reported today.

Lieutenant Holtz, who has been on active duty with the Women's Army Corps in Europe, is a strong support of General Dwight D. Eisenhower for the Republican presidential nomination.

Observed General

The young woman is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, and is now engaged in completing work for a Ph.D. in public law and government at Columbia university. While at Columbia, she said she had an opportunity to observe General Eisenhower's administration while he was president.

"The success of his management was very manifest," she said. "In his talks to the student body he expressed a broad understanding of educational problems; his abilities and his unaffected friendliness won universal respect of both teaching staff and students. . . I support him for his integrity, statesmanship and his faithfulness to the completion of whatever task he undertakes. His administrative ability commands the respect of all whom he contacts. His faculty for selecting capable and sincere men and women to fill important positions is well known."

"Peace on earth is nearer as the result of his recent work in Europe. The respect, honor and friendship in which he is held by peace loving nations will be a valuable asset to the next President of the United States. He is the one American who can bring unity to our people and strength to our nation," Lieutenant Holtz said.

She previously was a senior counselor of the Rogue Valley Girl Scout Camp at Lake O'Woods, and holds membership in a number of veteran, educational, political science and law organizations.

Savings and Loan Directors Mourn Max Peirce's Death

The board of directors of the First Federal Savings and Loan association of Medford this week passed a resolution honoring the late Max Peirce, insurance man and member of the board, who died suddenly recently.

The resolution, signed by George M. Roberts, president, says:

Whereas, it has pleased omnipotent and all wise Providence to remove from our midst the kind and pleasing presence of Lt. Cmdr. Howard Maxwell Peirce Sr., familiarly and lovingly known to us as "Max," a most highly respected and patriotic citizen of this community, and for many years a director of this association, and

Whereas, we, out of respect to the memory and great public service by Commander Peirce during his long career in the Navy and as a citizen of this community and a member of this organization, are moved to adopt suitable resolutions commemorating his life and public service, and

Whereas, for a great many years Max Peirce has lived in our midst and by reason of his lovable disposition, personal charm, generosity, unselfishness and kindness and consideration for the feelings of others has endeared himself to all who knew him, and

Whereas, he was recognized as and was a highly talented, most capable and efficient officer and businessman and a most valuable member of this association and at all times was ever faithful to his friends and associates and to every public trust, and was possessed of high ideals, sterling moral fibre and was a devoted husband and father, and

Whereas, this organization, the family of Max Peirce Sr. and his recent neighbors and friends, as well as the general public, have suffered a great calamity in his loss,

Now, therefore, be it resolved by the board of directors of the First Federal Savings and Loan association of Medford, Oregon, that we will ever cherish the memory, the friendship and unblemished reputation of Max Peirce Sr., and the example set by him for honesty, integrity, faithfulness and application to both private and public duty and the many virtues displayed by him both in public and private life, and we deeply mourn his loss and feel that we have lost a most valuable member of our organization, his wife a most affectionate husband, his son a most devoted father, his neighbors and friends a close friend and associate, and the public a noble respected citizen.

Be it further resolved that a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this board and copies presented to the family and to the press for publication.
