

SAME THE WORLD OVER—Typical of mothers the world over are Senora Don Ross Markmann de Gonzalez Videla (left), Chilean, Mother of the World, and Chinese-born Mrs. Toy Len Goon of Portland, Me. The two mothers were presented with citations at New York by the American Mothers committee.

some Man" contest conducted by a woman's magazine. That was Francis X. Bushman. The feminine film fans went wild about Bushman. He jammed the theaters with adoring females for years.

Asking
Queries from Clients. Q. How long has Sunday professional baseball been legal in Brooklyn? I claim over 40 years. A. Quite right, sir. Forty-eight years, to be exact. Q. See Rida Johnson Young credited with writing "Mother Machree." I always thought this was one of Ernest Ball's greatest hits. A. Mrs. Young wrote the words of "Mother Machree." I always thought this music. Chauncey Olcott introduced it. . . . Q. My sister-in-law says Garbo played the part of Sappho on the screen. Same part Olga Nethersole played on the stage. I say she never did. Who wins the kiss-proof lipstick. A. Garbo played part of Sappho in a film titled "Inspiration." Robert Montgomery was her leading man.

Baby Shoes
Have you your baby shoes among your souvenirs? I haven't. In fact, I haven't even a picture of myself as a baby. Too bad. I have heard I was really a beautiful baby. Anyway, more parents are now saving baby shoes than ever before. A man named Viers N. Lash, of San Pierre, Ind., has established a highly profitable business devoted to electroplating baby shoes for preservation mementos.

Among the Married
Take the work the average housewife with two small children handles. What would it be worth in the domestic help market? Well, maids and cooks are paid $175 a month plus board and room. That is equal to about $60 a week. But this does not include care of the children. A nurse for the kiddies would come to at least $40 a week more. So what the average housewife does is, from a salary standpoint, worth $100 a week, minimum. When you consider she works seven days a week it must be increased; $125 is probably more accurate.

Quaint Fellow
A current film depicts the life of that colorful baseball character "Dizzy" Dean. Dean was somewhat "dizzy" during his diamond career, but in that respect just wasn't it with "Rube" Waddell. "Rube" was one of the greatest pitchers of all time. Some say the greatest, when they could get him to pitch. He had a habit of not showing up for the game. Searchers were sent out for him. Here are some of the things they found Waddell doing when he should have been at the baseball park. 1. Playing in a sandlot game with a bunch of kids. 2. Posing in a shop window as an automaton. 3. Acting as a volunteer bartender. Every time he served a drink he had one himself. 4. Riding on a hook and ladder wearing a fireman's hat. 5. Wrestling an alligator. That was in Florida. After seeing a professional trainer wrestle an alligator, "Rube" tried it himself.

Cigars
Englishmen favor dry cigars. This choice is frequently subjected to criticism by Americans. Now Juan B. Diaz Jr., well known Cuban cigar manufacturer, says the Englishmen have the right idea. Observed Senor Diaz: "Americans insist on green cigars which look bad, taste foul and smell atrociously." I don't like dry cigars either. I go for the happy medium which is the way they are kept in all the first class cigar stands in the U.S.A. I know of. Perhaps Diaz didn't really mean what he said. But a nasty crack at American tastes always goes over well in England.

Another inventor to whom the feminine portion of the population owes a vote of thanks is Solomon Goldberg. He invented the crinkled hair-pin. Before that all hairpins were straight and difficult to keep in the hair. The crinkled hairpin cured that distressing situation. Mr. Goldberg is reported to have made a fortune from this simple invention.

that male beauty competition for the title of "Mr. America" ever became a film star. Not that I know of. In fact, I don't even know of a "Mr. America" getting a Hollywood offer. It could be a mistake. Such a personality, properly and cleverly handled, might become quite a box office attraction. One of the greatest box office attractions in movie history broke into pictures by winning a "most Hand-
