A unique attraction for tourists in the Hartz Mountains is a large supply of snow stored in abandoned mines, enabling visitors to engage in snowball contests throughout the summer, reports the German tourist office.

Two Will Attend Hospital Meeting

Sacred Heart hospital, Medford, will be represented at the 22nd annual convention of the Association of Western Hospitals in San Francisco May 12-15 by Sister Rose, administrator, and Sister Teresa Louis, RN.

The convention will be attended by 3,000 hospital administrators and department heads from nine western states, Hawaii, Alaska and British Columbia. The hospital executives will study current problems and hospital administration and seek new and better ways of meeting the public's hospital needs.

Dr. Anthony J. J. Rouke, president of the American Hospital association, will participate in the convention.

4-H Club News

Upper Rogue 4-H
 The first meeting of the Miscellaneous club of Upper Rogue 4-H was held May 5 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Eastgate.

We answered roll call with the name of our project and progress made since getting our 4-H record books.

There were seven members and three visitors present. We played "electricity." Bob and Ronny Eastgate served refreshments. Bill Littlefield is our leader.

Robert Eastgate, reporter.

Sams Valley Club
 Sams Valley 4-H Pig and Sheep club met at Melvin Smith's home on April 22.

Our leader, Earl Bigham, gave a talk on "The Care of Pigs," and helped us with our record books. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Jean Smith.

Next meeting will be held at Carl Michaels' home on May 27. Beverly Sanderson, reporter.

Applegate Sewing Susans

Applegate Sewing Susans were hostesses at their Mothers Tea May 8, at the home of Mrs. Myrtle Krouse. The program was given by the members. Peggy Keith played "Mocking Bird Hill" on her harmonica, Gwen Krouse and Joyce Messenger played their accordions.

Mitzy Baysinger, Dora Brown and Janet Boyington sang, accompanied on the piano by Virginia Gopen. Several games were played and refreshments were served.

Donna Brown, reporter.

As We Live...

By DR. ELIZABETH HURLOCK
WHIM FOR DIVORCE WILL PASS IN TIME

Divorce is a very serious matter. Like marriage, it should not be entered into lightly. If a person plans a divorce in a hurry, he is sure to regret his hasty decision. That is why it is best for this young man to take time before coming to a final decision: "Just three months ago, I returned home after 14 months of foreign service, to have my wife tell me that she was in love with my best friend who is 12 years her senior. She is 29. I am 30, and we have a son six years old. We are living in a new home we built just before I went into service. She now wants to separate and take half of all we have. Am I being selfish in trying to hang on? I love her too much to see her hurt."

You are not selfish but sensible to try to hang on to your marriage, your home, and your family. This may be just a whim on your wife's part and like all whims it will pass in time.

Why not talk to your best friend and get his side of the story? It is incredible that your best friend would have an affair with your wife while you were away from home. Is it not possible that your wife imagines that she is in love with your friend while he has no serious thoughts about her and never even contemplated marrying?

When you talk to him, don't reproach him or let him think that you are blaming him for what has happened. If the romance is purely a product of your wife's imagination, you don't want to risk breaking up a friendship that has meant much to you by jumping to false conclusions or making false accusations. Let both know that you have no thought of divorcing your wife. You and she have built a home together and you have a young son who needs both his father and his mother.

She May Settle Down
 When your wife realizes that you are not going to turn her over to another man and that you are not willing to divide what you have built up together, she may settle down. If, however, time does not cure her of her romantic ideas, then meet the problem of divorce or separation several years hence.

Dr. Hurlock will help you with family problems. Write her in care of this newspaper.
