SOC Schedules English Comedy Friday, Saturday

Ashland—Final rehearsals are being held for the spring play at Southern Oregon college, according to Angus L. Bowmer, director. "Candida," by George Bernard Shaw, will be presented for the first time at 8:30 o'clock Friday evening and repeated Saturday and also on May 24.

The famous English comedy will be presented in arena style in the study room of the new library building, Professor Bowmer said. Utilization of the novel staging effect will permit the audience to feel itself part of the action, he added.

Setting of the drama is in suburban London and the plot is a love triangle. Key parts will be taken by Miss Nanette Cuddie, Klamath Falls; Robert J. Hilliard, Seattle; and Robert Knott, Eugene.

The director describes the play as "one of the most delightful modern comedies, rich in Shaw wit and somewhat mellowed by gentle charm."

If on Saturday morning it is raining or threatening, or the ground is wet from the previous night's rain, the fiesta will be held in the Lincoln School gym, with everyone eating their lunch first at home.

Scouts are asked to show Spanish influence in their clothing for the day. The main dish at the noon meal will be chili made by the scouts of each troop. The activities of the individual troops in preparing and cleaning up after the meal will be judged.

Spanish songs and dances will be learned and presented with music provided by Mrs. Eve Prentice's accordion band. Cookery awards will be presented, and the scouts will participate in a Spanish mantilla relay race.
