Annual Roundup Plans Made by Posse, Troop

Riders of the valley are taking advantage of these bright spring days for jaunts on horseback into the country and riding groups now are laying plans for their summer activities.

Jackson County Mounted Sheriff's posse and its auxiliary organizations, the Ladies' Mounted troop and Junior posse, are busier this spring than usual. This is the first year that the annual Rogue River Roundup, sponsored by the posse, will be held at the posse grounds. This means that the possmen and the troop women are spending every available hour working on the building program at the grounds.

Grandstands had to be built, the sheds, stock pens and chutes had to be put up, as well as the various other improvements necessary for staging a roundup show.

In many instances the entire family spends Sunday at the grounds, the children riding horseback and playing games. Women of the troop plan pot-luck lunches and at noon the families gather to eat, much the same as an old fashioned picnic.

Today at 1:30 p.m. at the posse grounds' arena a queen and two princesses will be selected to preside at the 10th annual roundup event June 14 and 15. The public is invited.

The young women will be selected primarily on their riding abilities. The queen will receive as prizes a Stetson hat and a hand embroidered western shirt. Her princesses each will be given a western belt. Applications in the contest will be accepted to noon today.

The troop members will serve a lunch, also open to the public, at 12:30 p.m. at the club house.

A small charge will be made for the lunch but there are no charges for the other activities of the day. Families are invited to come together to spend the day, inspect the buildings, have lunch and attend the judging. Games played on horseback are a part of the program.

Six candidates were registered yesterday in the contest and more are expected this morning. Those who had registered are Mary Lou Larson, Barbara Robinson, and Shirley Nelson, all Medford and all Junior posse members; Dorothy Thumler, Old Central Point highway; Lorena Millard, Eagle Point; and Joanne Morgan, Medford.

The troop has charge of the queen's contest with Mrs. Homer Marx, chairman, and Mrs. W. M. Lemmon and Mrs. Clarence Dodge, committee women.

Today's luncheon arrangements are under supervision of Mrs. Leonard Anderson, chairman, with Mrs. H. B. Murphy, Mrs. Lemmon, Mrs. Howard Haskell, Mrs. Oren Swearingen and Mrs. Mildred Robinson.
