

Ex-Catholic Will Address Friends Meeting Tonight

The Rev. Anthony Callandro, Italian-born ex-priest of the Roman Catholic church, now traveling through the United States under the auspices of the National Association of Evangelicals, will speak at the Friends church at 7:45 tonight.

Mr. Callandro is founder of the Evangelical Biblical Institute of Italy, a seminary for Italian ex-priests re-training them for Protestant ministry, located at Portici, Naples, Italy. In order to found the seminary in 1949, he resigned from the pastorate of the Church of the Redeemer in West New York, N. J., and from the faculty of the senior high school in Montclair, N. J., where he was a professor of Italian for 15 years.

He has been active in community work, in interracial associations, and for many years he taught Americanization and civics to Italian immigrants, preparatory to their becoming American citizens.

For 12 years director of Christ's mission in New York City, he conducted forum meetings each Sunday in Times Square district for the discussion of the vital differences between the religious and cultural values of Reformation teachings and those of Roman Catholicism.

Distinctions he has received include the 1934 American University award from the Italian government, being sent as an ambassador of good will to Italy by the Italian Ministerial association of Greater New York in 1947 and being elected president of the Association of Ex-Priests of Italy at its first congress in Florence, Italy, the same year.

The public is invited to hear him.

Presbyterians Elect Dr. Morse Leader

Dr. Herman N. Morse has been elected moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, Presbyterian church officials here reported.

Dr. Morse has been head of the Board of National Missions since 1948 and has been a worker in home missions for 20 years. This is the 150th anniversary year of the founding of the board and the fact that Dr. Morse was chairman helped him gain election by overwhelming margin, it was said.

The General Assembly opened two weeks of sessions Thursday in New York City.

Staff Members at SOC Give Graduation Talks

Ashland — Southern Oregon college staff members are busy this week delivering commencement addresses at several Oregon high schools.

This evening Dr. Elmo N. Stevenson, college president, will appear at Butte Falls; Dr. Roy W. McNeal, professor of geography at Prospect; and Dr. Arthur Kresman, associate professor of English at Canyonville.

Dr. Stevenson delivered the commencement address at Corbett last night and on Wednesday Dr. John A. Schulz, associate professor of psychology, appeared at Ophir. Dr. Schulz also spoke to the Bandon Lions club Wednesday noon.

Science-Religion Motion Picture Will Be Shown

"Hidden Treasures," a film which delves into the infinitesimal things of God's creation, will be shown Sunday at 8 p.m. at the Temple Baptist church, the Rev. Perry M. Johnson, pastor, announced.

The movie is the latest religious-science film of Moody Institute of Science and was produced by Dr. Irwin Moon, director of the Institute.

Camera-work for the picture took 18 months and cameramen reported risked life and limb to capture some of the unusual scenes. The filmers' adventures took them from dungeon caves to exploration aboard a research ship. Wonders of creation are shown with use of telescope and microscope.

The film shows minute flowers, microscopic denizens of the sea, diatoms, iridescent cave crystals, microscopic paramecia and amoebae and some of the 100 million island universes shown by the 200-inch Mt. Palomar telescope.

"Hidden Treasures" is the sixth in a series produced by the institute.

The picture will be shown at 8 p.m. today at the Church of the Nazarene.

DEATH NO TERROR
Gulfport, Vt. — (U.P.) — A marble tombstone over the grave of Benjamin Carpenter has a lengthy inscription listing his many services to the state.
