

Sorority Presents Two Scholarships At Ashland Session

Miss Carol J. Robertson, Medford and Miss Charlene Lindquist, Grants Pass, were awarded the two 1952 scholarships given by Delta Kappa Gamma, honorary teachers sorority, at a meeting of the local chapter May 17. The group makes the awards annually to young women who plan to teach and who are considered outstanding. Miss Robertson and Miss Lindquist plan to attend Southern Oregon college.

During the meeting, which was in the Elks club at Ashland, luncheon was served and the year's work of the organization was brought to a close. Miss Annette Gray and Mrs. Catherine Stancliffe reported on the activities and entertainment at a recent state convention in Klamath Falls. They displayed mementos brought back to the chapter.

Mrs. Blanche Canode presented a completed scrap book representing a record of the year's achievements of the chapter. Mrs. Alice Willits paid tribute to Annie Webb Blanton, national founder of the organization in observance of Founders day.

Mrs. Marjory Butler announced that Medford Future Teachers club would entertain the Grants Pass club at a reception and that both groups would install new officers at that time.

Mrs. Jennie Calhoun and other officers who completed their terms at this final meeting of the year presented the new officers. The new officers are Mrs. Alice Gay, Medford, president; Mrs. Stancliffe, first vice-president; Mrs. Alice Ottis, second vice-president; Miss Gladys Owen, recording secretary; Miss Anna Laura Hons, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Canode, treasurer, and Mrs. Florence Stokoe, parliamentary. Workshop Program Given on Saturday By Music Students

Second of a series of workshop programs was presented by a group of piano and voice students of Mrs. Roberta Ward Bebb Saturday afternoon at her residence studio.

Fundamentals of music theory, music appreciation, ear-training and interpretation were discussed to develop musicianship and to help the students appreciate the cultural character building of all phases of music.

One portion of the program was devoted to the performance of the works of the old masters, including Beethoven, Tchaikovsky, Grieg, Brahms and Chopin. Introductory synopses of their lives were given.

Analysis of the sonata form was explained and demonstrated by Dick Crain in his playing of "Sonata No. 8 in C Minor" by Beethoven. Barbara Williams and Mrs. June Chancellor Harrison sang. Mrs. Harrison told the story of the opera "La Tosca," by Puccini, and sang an aria from the opera "Visi d'Arte, Visi d'Amore."

Participating in the program were Misses Isobel Carr, Jane Bash, Katherine Gott, Sharon Roberts, Lois Anne Pike, Nancy Hamilton, Pat Perry, Judy Bash, Carolyn Jackson, Anelda Lewis, and Lee Mellich, Dick Arnold, Eugene Groves, Dick Crain, Miss Williams and Mrs. Harrison. Astronomers generally agree that the source of energy in the stars is atomic. Protons, the nuclei of atoms of hydrogen, are combined to form a nucleus of a helium atom and thus energy is released.
