GOP Convention Will Have Much Effect on Democratic Platform

By LYLE C. WILSON
Washington—(U.P.)—What the Republican National Convention does will considerably affect Democratic nominating and platform actions this year.

or, Franklin D. Roosevelt was the far-seeing politician who shifted the Democratic convention to second place after many years had established a tradition that his party teed off first.

Liked Short Campaign
FDR also forced both conventions into July. June had been the customary convention month until Mr. Roosevelt came along. He held that there was too much dead time between the nominating conventions and the election. FDR liked a short and sharp campaign and held that September was the time to start it.

His maneuvering left the Democrats with a real advantage this year in holding the second convention because the man and platform put up by the Republicans probably will help Democrats to determine their own choice and strategy.

Would Want Defenders
Republican nomination of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, for example, would pitch the entire campaign on domestic issues. There is not much difference between the Eisenhower and Truman foreign policies.

Against Eisenhower, the Democrats would want their most vigorous defenders of Truman domestic policy. Vice President Alben W. Barkley would be as handy with that as any Democrat. Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, Sen. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma, and some others would be well qualified.

Republican nomination of Sen. Robert A. Taft would make foreign policy the top campaign issue and the Democrats would draft their platforms and, perhaps, nominate their ticket accordingly. Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois has a foreign background. So does W. Averell Harriman.

Might Weaken Position
It has been suggested, too, that Stevenson's determination not to be a candidate for Democratic presidential nomination this year might weaken more than somewhat if Taft were nominated. Also that Stevenson would firm-

76 Jackson County Students at SOC To Be Graduated

Ashland—Seventy-six Jackson county students will be among the 191 candidates for diplomas at the Southern Oregon college commencement on Sunday, according to Marshall E. Woodell, chairman of the ceremony. The exercises will be held at the Butler Memorial band shell in Lithia park at 3 p.m.

Of the county representation, 31 are from Ashland, 27 from Medford, 4 from Talent, 2 from Eagle Point, Rogue River, Trail, Central Point and Phoenix, and 1 each from Prospect, Shady Cove, Butte Falls and Jacksonville.

Robert E. Phillips, Ashland, president of the senior class, today announced that graduates will meet in Churchill hall auditorium at 12:20 p.m. Thursday. Final instructions about the ceremony will be given at that time, he said, and all candidates for diplomas will be required to attend.

Jackson List Largest
Dean Woodell said the Jackson county candidate list for diplomas is the largest followed by 27 from Klamath county, 20 from Douglas county, 17 from Josephine county and 13 from Coos county.

Medford candidates for the degree of bachelor of science in elementary education are Elliott D. Becken, Dan W. Cahill, Leona C. Crane, Bruce S. Hitt Jr., Alice M. Howard, Richard V. Lugnet, Catherine McDonald, Anne S. Nichols, Dean S. Nichols, Alfred E. Reiner, Mildred E. Rogers, Gage O. Sanden, Kenneth M. Stocks, Elizabeth R. Thompson and Zelda Van Valzah.

Other county candidates for the BS degree are Vernon G. Bonebrake, Eagle Point; E. Elizabeth Buck and Barbara May Orvis, Rogue River; James C. Collier, Trail; Nancy Jeanette Hunter, Central Point; Veda B. Neville, Prospect; Heene E. Watson, Shady Cove; Arthur W. Wisner and Gertrude A. Wooten, Talent; D. Marilyn Matheny, Jacksonville.

Certificate Candidates
Medford candidates for the three-year certificate are Helen H. Ford, Patricia A. Greb, Ethel E. Jacobs, Vincent P. McGovern, Katherine M. Rice, Nancy L. Rinabarger, Robert A. Seward, Dora M. Shepard, Lola H. Work and Robert H. Work. Ashland three-year candidates are Julia T. Bruce, Eugene L. Crouch, Dorothea Crowley, William H. Francisco and Rosemary A. Ring.

Other candidates for the three-year certificates are Raymond A. Mullen, Trail; Joy Bigham, Central Point; Enid L. Casebier and Lorán W. Casebier, Talent; Patricia J. Malone and Wesley E. Clafin, Phoenix, and Alice I. Harris, Butte Falls.

Candidates for two-year junior certificates include Lee C. Stothers and David Wisely, Medford, and Lloyd E. Hale, Eagle Point.

Picking Price for Strawberries Talked

Salem—(U.P.)—It looks like the picking price for strawberries in the Willamette valley this season will be four and five cents a pound.

Growers met with State Labor Commissioner William E. Kimsey here Tuesday night. They did not come up with a definitely established price but they made this provision:

If the cannery price is less than 17 cents a pound the picking price will be four cents plus a half-cent bonus for picking out the season.

If the cannery price is 17 cents or more, the picking price will be four and one-half cents plus the half-cent bonus.

Last year's picking price was 4½ cents plus the half-cent bonus.

ly reject a bid to run against Eisenhower.

Any of the others, including Barkley, doubtless would accept with enthusiasm an opportunity to run against any Republican, even Taft and Eisenhower on the same ticket.

Win or lose, a presidential nomination looks good in the record books.

SURE there's a better way for Cool Home Comfort

Get an ESSICK Air Cooler

The Cooler That Gives "TWICE AS MUCH COOL AIR"—at NO extra cost

Millions of people (except the man illustrated) know that the best way to be cool and comfortable is to install an Essick Air Cooler. Only Essick can give you that soothing comfort all summer long, because Essick has the patented "No-Clog Sta-Fresh" filter that can't clog with dirt as in ordinary filters and rob you of cool air. Comparison with other coolers proves that, after only a short period of operation, Essick delivers "TWICE AS MUCH COOL AIR."

In addition, this year Essick introduces the "Comfort Selector" providing a revolutionary new method for control of cooling and comfort. It's so simple that you'll wonder why it wasn't thought of before—just as simple as opening or closing a window.

Come in today—Let us explain how you can have all the above—at a low price that will amaze you.
