Televised Grid Games Approved On Paying Basis

New York—(U.P.)—There'll be one football game a week televised in most cities this season, but eventually viewers may have to pay cash for every TV game they see.

That's the report of the NCAA Television Committee, which controls all TV games. The fare for this season is pretty much the same as last year, except there will be no more "black-out" Saturdays when there is no game at all.

The NCAA made it plain it considers the thousands of dollars it will get from a sponsor small change compared to the millions of dollars it can collect from viewers. Furthermore, the NCAA said, it will take only about three years to start collecting from the man in the living room chair.

These millions of dollars would be divided up among the 280 member colleges no matter which teams are playing the TV game.

The NCAA will permit one 1952 game to be televised in each city each week. It will sell the whole business to a sponsor, and he decides which game will be televised.

Model Plane Class Studied by Club

Plans for a class in airplane model construction and flying are under consideration by the Medford Prop Nuts and a local service organization, it was announced today.

Before the class is organized, the model airplane club plans to find out how much interest there would be in such a proposal, and a coupon will appear in a Sims Brothers advertisement in The Mail Tribune tomorrow, a spokesman announced.

Any youngster interested is invited to clip the coupon, fill it out and mail it to the Medford Prop Nuts, 214 East Fourth street. The service organization will assist the Prop Nuts in putting on the class if sufficient interest is shown.

On Sunday, the Prop Nuts club will sponsor a "U-control" flight demonstration of model aircraft controlled by wires. It will be at the high school practice field at 2:30 p. m., and the public is invited. Bleachers for spectators are available.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Grigsby returned last week to live at Central Point. Former Medford resident, they came here from Ft. Lewis, Wash., where Grigsby was stationed as a sergeant with the Army for the past year. He now has received his discharge from the service after serving for four years.

Grigsby was with a 1st cavalry medical outfit in Japan and Korea for 28 months before being stationed at Ft. Lewis. He now is employed at the Central Point Grange cooperative. Mrs. Grigsby began work yesterday at Pick's Apparel shop, Medford. Both are 1947 Medford high school graduates.

During his service he was decorated with a silver star and purple heart.

He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Grigsby, and his wife's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Schumacher, all of Medford.

Ed Knapp Again To Manage Pool

Ed Knapp will again manage the Hawthorne park swimming pool which is opening this Saturday, June 7, according to Park Director Darrell Huson.

Huson said there would be "practically the same personnel" again at the pool as last year. There have been no major changes in the building or pool, according to the director.

Admission charges will remain the same as last year, Huson explained, with children under 12 at 20 cents, students 12 to 18 at 25 cents, and adults at 40 cents.

The director pointed out that there would be no special night for adults only, at the beginning of the season. He said that last year, Thursday evening was set aside for adults but this didn't work out as intended. If enough interest is shown later, it may be decided to put an evening aside, he added.

The pool will be open seven days a week from 1 to 9 p. m.

Astoria Fishermen's Row Activity Slowed

Astoria—(U.P.)—Activity along Astoria's Fishermen's row was slowed to a snail's pace Tuesday with the gillnet season closed until June 20, only light salmon catches being made by troll and the bottom fishermen's strike continuing.

Halibut was about the only fish being delivered to lower Columbia river canneries. Two Astoria canners reported deliveries of halibut at prices around 22 cents a pound for mediums and 19 cents for chicks.

The bottom fishermen were holding fast to their demand for continued payment of winter prices for their catches. The packers want to pay summer prices which are about 15 per cent lower than winter prices.

BOND ACTION WAITED
Portland—(U.P.)—The Portland city council was scheduled to act on a bond for Nate Boody Tuesday which would make him a full-fledged council member.

More than 200 riders are expected to participate in the parade. Prizes, including the grand prize of a bicycle, will be awarded for the best-decorated bikes in the parade. Each contestant also will be given instruction in bicycle safety.

Prizes will be awarded at the Ward store after the parade, and there will also be short talks on safety, which will be broadcast over a public address system from the judges' stand.
