City Employees At Gold Hill Get Insurance Data

Gold Hill—Harry A. Quail of the Social Security office in Medford appeared at the meeting of the Gold Hill city council Monday night, to explain the social security plans as it would effect city employees who will soon vote on the question of participating in the plan.

He explained the meaning of "fully insured", "currently insured" and method of figuring retirement payments. Questions asked by councilmen and employees were answered.

Mayor O. W. Newland conducted the business meeting. A statement prepared by Councilman Milton Steinmetz, chairman of the sewage disposal committee, showed that $2,728 had been spent for labor, and $2,977 for materials to put the plant into shape to comply with requirements of the state sanitary office. Filter arms, which will be delivered in August, will cost $316 plus the labor of installing them. This will make a total of slightly over $6,000 for disposal plant work.

Finances Reported

City Recorder Ferd Jones reported on the amount of money left in the city bank account, and the probable expenses from now until tax receipts start coming in next winter. The council estimated that if no emergencies should arise, it would probably be possible to meet all expenses without borrowing.

A letter from Fire Chief Melford Hood was read, stating that the fire department had been called recently to the premises owned by Vivian Bailey at 519 First avenue, to put out a fire, and that he had found definite hazards existing in the house at that location. George Turner, city superintendent, stated that Gold Hill does not have an ordinance under which such a situation can properly be handled. He showed a copy of the Medford ordinance covering such fire hazards and turned it over to the council for further study.

Shavings Protested

Councilman Don Morrow stated that residents along Highway 99 had complained about shavings blowing onto their property from the planing mill in Gold Hill. He said that the loads of shavings were formerly covered with canvas, but were now being hauled with no covering. The recorder was instructed to write to the planing mill owners about the matter.

A form received from the State Industrial Accident Commission was filled out to obtain insurance on the members of the volunteer fire department. A plan for street improvements, including oiling and graveling Sixth avenue from Fourth street to Seventh street was accepted by the council from the street committee, with the work to be done with state street funds.
