Registration Open For Camp Low Echo; Ask Parents Help

Registration for the first week at the Rogue Valley area Girl Scout camp, Low Echo, is now open to girls who will be sixth graders this fall as well as to those who will be in the fifth grade, the Girl Scout offices announced. Second week registration is now closed but girl scouts, non-scouts and girls outside this area may still register for the other weeks of the season, it is stated.

Contrary to rumors about winter damage at the camp, no buildings at Low Echo were damaged, the office stated, and very few trees fell. The recreation hall at Ester Applegate camp, jointly owned by the Klamath Falls Girl Scouts and Campfire girls, collapsed under the weight of the snow, it was said.

The work program at the camp, undertaken each year by parents of scouts, includes cleaning away the fallen trees, completing the new infirmary and erecting permanent alpine sleeping shelters in the senior unit. These shelters have been completed in the other units.

The help of parents is needed badly because of the lateness of the season, it is reported. Work has been held up because the road has just been recently opened. Families wishing to go up to help for a week-end may call the scout office, 2-5912, or Mrs. Ray Baker, the Medford district camp coordinator, at 3-3186. Several families are planning to give their time this week-end.

Two Day Camp Sessions Planned for Girl Scouts

Medford district Girl Scout day camp will operate in two sessions this year, Monday June 9 through June 12, and from June 16 to 19. The camp activities are carried on at the day camp site on Bear creek off Barnett road behind the county shops. Hours are from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. and parents are asked to call for their girls promptly at the closing of the day's program, the staff states.

The camp fee will be 50 cents for eight days of camping, or 25 cents per day if a girl does not sign up for the complete camping session. The scant expenses for overnight camping will be prorated and are in addition to the regular fee. Girls will register for day camp in their troops, with their troop leader, but registration will also be taken at the day camp on the opening day. Girls attending vacation Bible school are urged to come to day camp at noon, and they will be given credit for full-time attendance.

The day camp committee chairman is Mrs. A. E. Stout, and the co-directors are Mrs. Stout and Mrs. Ray Baker. They will be assisted by a staff of 18 persons.

The girls will camp in groups of their own age, designated by the grade they will be in next fall. The third grade units will be led by Mrs. Harold H. Wilson and Mrs. E. H. Sims, assisted by Mrs. Oris Gable and Mrs. Jack James.

The fourth grade units will be led by Mrs. L. E. Cline. Mrs. Hanns Meier and Miss Marilyn Murphy, assisted by Mrs. Clifton Friend.

Fifth grade unit leaders will be Mrs. Fred Graten, Mrs. Marvin Grove, and Mrs. Clara Fritz, assisted by Mrs. Raymond Van Lieu, Mrs. Raymond Reter and Mrs. Charles Ely, assisted by Mrs. Harold W. Hubler, will be in charge of the sixth grade unit. Seventh graders will be led by Mrs. O. J. Miller and Mrs. George Ice. The explorer badge will be earned by this group, which includes daily excursions out of camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Leverette have made their swimming pool available for the girl scouts during the day camp period. Fifth and sixth grade units will go swimming, and Lou Cranston will be life guard.

Mrs. Robert Herriott will be in charge of first aid and Mrs. Raymond Van Lieu is in charge of arts and crafts.

Girls should wear slacks or jeans, shorts or play clothes, but no sun-backs, and should take a sweater or jacket. All campers are requested to wear shoes every day, because of the broken glass found in the camping area. Each girl is to take her own lunch the first day, and her share of food for the cook-outs for the balance of day camp, plus her place service and a jackknife.
