5 Huskies Named Loop All-Stars

Seattle — (U.P.) — The Washington Huskies placed five men on the all-Northern division baseball team selected by coaches and publicity directors, it was announced Thursday.

The Huskies, who won six of their last seven games to tie for their first title since 1932, were represented by Third Baseman Bill Stuht, Shortstop Bill Earley, First Baseman Bob Houbregs, Catcher Sam Mitchell and Pitcher Bob Bell.

Nelson Picked

Despite a 3-5 record, Washington State college hurler Rod Keogh tied with Bell in the voting.

Oregon's Daryle Nelson was posted at second base to complete the all-star infield.

Dwane Helbig, Oregon State left fielder, was the only unanimous choice. Right Fielder Joe Sugura of Oregon and Centerfielder Bruce McIntosh of Idaho filled the outfield positions.

New York — (U.P.) — Hawaiian-born middleweight contender Carl (Bobo) Olson of San Francisco was favored to defeat Jimmy Beau of New Canaan, Conn., Friday in a 10-round bout at Madison Square Garden.

CHENEY STUD TRIO AWAITS BROOKINGS—Two Cheney Stud skippers and one of the pitchers pose cheerfully for the cameraman. Left to right, they are Player-Manager Hoosier Hoffard, Pitcher Paul Gehrman and Sponsor Ben Cheney. When the Studs play Brookings Saturday night and Sunday afternoon in a Southwestern Oregon Baseball league series, Gehrman will pitch one game, Hoffard will be in the first base coaching box and Cheney in the third base coaching area. —(Richards Studio, Tacoma).

Studs Contend Here on Saturday, Sunday With Brookings Beavers

An ex-Medford Rogue pitcher will be on the mound for one of the games when the Brookings Beavers battle the Medford Cheney Studs at the fairgrounds baseball park here this week-end. The games are slated for 8 p.m. Saturday and 2 p.m. Sunday.

The ex-Rogue is Bob Astin, who chucked for the Medford pro club during the early part of last season. He later went to Brookings and was soundly thumped by the Studs in a Southwestern Oregon loop hassle. Astin, however, has caused past Studs teams trouble and, if he's "on" this week-end the Cheney gang will have a struggle on its hands.

Astin and the other Brookings tosser, Wally Maciel, both have had four or five years of semi-pro experience.

League Frays

The two scuffles will be Sawdust league counters. Brookings is at the bottom of the heap with no wins in five tries. Medford is now in fifth spot in the seven-club circuit with two wins and four losses.

Other league frays will find unbeaten Drain battling upsurging Coos Bay-North Bend and Coquille opposing second-place Bandon. Roseburg draws a bye.

For Brookings in the game here Rocky Peterson will be catcher. Bill Darnell will be at first base, Bill Wallace on second, Don Jacobson at shortstop and Bob Chapman or Phil Parsons at third base. Jerry Mason, outstanding player from University of Southern California, and Frank Burdell, will have outfield posts. Mason, Burdell and Darnell are the heavy hitters and each hits a long ball.

Derald Wooton and Paul Gehrman will be Stud pitchers and Frank Roelandt will do the receiving. The infield will be picked from among Clarence Mellbye, George Gitzen, Alex McDonald, Marvin Cartwright, Pete Bianchi and Boody Gilbertson. Gilbertson is a former University of Washington baseball and basketball player. Bianchi has Western International and Coast league experience.

Snuffy Smith, Moose Blevins and Norm Luchich will be in the Cheney outfield.
