SOUTHWESTERN OREGON LEAGUE STANDINGS

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Roseburg	4	2	.667

Coos Bay-North Bend	4	2	.667
Bandon	3	3	.500
Medford	4	4	.500
Coquille	3	3	.500
Brookings	0	6	.000

The Medford Cheney Studs, with loose-limbed Derald Wooton on the mound, thumped Brookings 14 to 3 Sunday at the fairgrounds to gain their first clean sweep of the season in a Southwestern Oregon league baseball series. Medford downed the Beavers 6 to 3 Saturday in the first tussle of a two-game stand.

Victories over the week-end gave the Studs a 500 mark in the league percentage column—four wins and four losses.

Coos Bay-North Bend shared the league leadership with Drain and Roseburg after week-end games. Each now has four wins and two losses.

Coos Bay Wins
The Coos Bay nine beat Drain 8 to 1 Saturday and 10 to 2 Sunday, beating Pitcher Roy Helsler Saturday and chasing Hurler Jerry Cade out Sunday. Coquille rapped Bandon 8 to 5 and 16 to 10. Bandon suffered from a pitching lack with Ad Liska shelved by an auto-injury and Bill Hanuska collapsing from a pinched nerve after facing three batters on Sunday.

Medford sewed up the Sunday contest with two big innings. It capitalized mainly on Beaver errors and Tosser Chuck Tykeson's wildness for five runs in the first frame and four in the second.

The Studs got their first canto score on a base on balls, bits by Alex McDonald, Frank Roelandt and Norm Lucich, three errors and a fielder's option. Two hit batters, two errors, a base on balls and two flyouts accounted for second inning markers.

Runs Cross
Another Medford run crossed in the fifth on Moose Blevins bingle and two errors. In the sixth Snuffy Smith, Clarence Melbye and Lucich hit for the Studs and a walk and a wild pitch figured as two more runs came in. The final Medford runs were scored in the eighth on a double by Roelandt, singles by Jack Gordon and Melbye and a groundout by Smith.

Brookings scored once in the fourth on hits by Frank Burdell, Bill Darnell and Bill Wallace, again in the sixth on Burdell's single and Wally Maciel's triple and once more in the eighth on Burdell's home run over the right field fence.

Medford Pitcher Wooton gave up eight hits during the afternoon, walked three batters and fanned eight. He handled four fielding chances for assists. Stud batters got to Hurler Chuck Tykeson, Oregon Tech youth playing for Brookings, for eight hits and they got three bingles off the offerings of Reliever Maciel.

Cartwright Goes
The Studs played Sunday without the services of Outfielder and Infielder Marv Cartwright who reportedly accepted a more lucrative offer from Dunsuir, Cal. Neither Boody Gilbertson nor Pete Bianchi from up Seattle way were here over the week-end to play for the Studs. There were reported conflicts in their schedules. It is understood that they are to alternate in playing with the Studs, only one joining the team each week.

Bob Astin, former Medford Rogues tosser, threw his last game for Brookings Saturday night. He has been on leave from the Marine Corps and headed back to duty after the game.

The Medford nine goes to Bandon for a Sawdust league series next week-end. On Wednesday.
