Lumberjack Kills Wildcat With Hands

Charleston, W. Va.—(U.P.)—Lumberjacks around nearby Cabin Creek, W. Va., are carrying shotguns to work now but a Paul Bunyan character by the name of Van Dickens needs only to carry his lunch pail to the woods.

Dickens gained some sort of legendary fame by killing a wildcat with his bare hands.

The mountain man had been cutting timber and had stopped to take a rest when he looked up the tree under which he was standing. Descending the tree directly above his head was a wildcat.

Dickens said he was so frightened he grabbed it by its head and dashed it to death against the tree before he realized what he was doing. His companions backed up the tale.
