June Brides

By Olive Starcher

June, favorite month for weddings, is here and the days are filled with wedding plans, church ceremonies, shower parties and all the rest of the pleasant excitement which goes with a wedding in America.

Last week saw several couples making their marriage vows, and numerous other ceremonies are set for this week-end and the remainder of June.

June 7 brought two of the season's largest and most interesting weddings. Miss Mary Ann Miksche, (upper left) was married to Peter Thomas Trim at Sacred Heart Catholic church at two o'clock in the afternoon, and Miss JaAnn Barbara Larsen, (upper right), became the bride of Floyd Henry Hart Jr., at five o'clock in St. Mark's Episcopal church.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Trim are traveling in Canada on their honeymoon and will live at Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, Canada, where the bridegroom is on the faculty of the University of Saskatchewan. Mr. and Mrs. Trim are shown (center left) leaving the church after the ceremony. The bride's sister, Mrs. Laurence A. Neer, is holding the train and the little flower girl, Maryanne Wilkinson, looks on. In the background are (left to right) Donald Wilkinson, usher, and Tam Nordby, the best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Hart have left for California and New Mexico where the bridegroom is on duty at Roswell with the United States Air force. The newlyweds are shown (center right) after the ceremony at St. Mark's church. Later they were greeted by friends waiting in the church yard and are shown (below right) receiving best wishes from Mr. and Mrs. Justin Smith. The maid-of-honor, Miss Donna Shaw, is shown at left.

The reception which followed the ceremony was given by the bride's parents at the Hart's home near Central Point.
