Yanks Boast Best Overall AL Averages

New York — (U.P.) — There isn't a Yankee among the first five leading batters but the world champions boasted the best overall batting and fielding averages in the American league as they opened a 14-game Western swing at Cleveland.

Official averages, which included Thursday's games, showed Casey Stengel's men leading the league in team batting with a .261 average. They were tied with the White Sox for second in club fielding with a .981 percentage. No other club ranked as high in both departments.

Washington was first in fielding with .984 but was last in batting with .234. Cleveland was second in hitting with .260 and fourth in fielding with .977 while Boston, which was third in batting at .259, ranked seventh in defense with .974.

Dom Leader
Dom DiMaggio with a .337 mark, led the circuit for the third straight week. George Kell, another Red Soxer late of Detroit, was tied with Cleveland's Al Rosen for second place at .326.

Billy Goodman of the Red Sox was fourth with .315 and Boston catcher Sammy White, the only rookie among the top five batters in either league, was tied with Eddie Robinson of the White Sox for fifth. Each had a .312 average.

Hank Sauer of the Cubs climaxed another big week with his three Wednesday homers off Curt Simmons of the Phillies and led the majors in virtually every hitting department. The big outfielder led in batting with a .345 average, in home runs with 18, in runs batted in with 59, and in hits with 70.

Joe Adcock of the Reds, with a .343 average, advanced from third to second in the National league batting race. Jackie Robinson of the Dodgers moved from fourth to third with .338. Whitey Lockman of the Giants, who was second last week, was fourth with .330, and defending champion Stan Musial of the Cards was fifth with .324.

Rosen and Walt Dropp of Detroit were tied for the RBI lead in the American league with 36 apiece. Rosen led the American in homers with 11 and Dropp was runner-up with 10.

Bobby Shantz topped the American league pitching percentages with a 10-1 record. Preacher Roe's 5-0 record led the National percentages but Sal Maglie of the Giants 9-2 and Gerry Staley of the Cards 9-3 had won nearly twice as many games as the Dodger left hander.

Choice of Cager Pleases Mentor

Corvallis — (U.P.) — One of the happiest men on the Oregon State college campus when Wade Swede Halbrook, seven-foot basketball center at Portland's Lincoln high, announced he would attend the Corvallis school was A. T. Slats Gill, the Beaver basketball coach.

"I'm pleased Wade picked OSC to continue his great basketball career and to become a well educated man," said the veteran Orange mentor.

Gill also said Halbrook's choice was a compliment to basketball in the state of Oregon and the basketball program at Oregon State.

Star Gridder Injures Arm

Dallas, Tex. — (U.P.) — Detroit Lions halfback Donk Walker lay in Baylor hospital Saturday, his passing arm held together by surgical stitches and wrapped in a plaster cast as a result of a Friday 13th accident which may hurt his pro football career.

The spectacular mainstay of the Lions smashed the window of a car with his elbow at Northwood Country club, where he had been helping with the National Open golf tournament. He was trying to push the parked car from in front of his own auto.

The glass severed the triceps muscle in his right arm, just above the elbow. Dr. Felix L. Butte, who stitched the deep, three-inch cut, said healing would take "at least a month."

Seals Defeat Hollywood, 7-3

San Francisco — (U.P.) — Manager Tommy Heath nearly cleaned his bench Saturday to build a big eighth inning fire of five runs to give the San Francisco Seals a 7 to 3 victory over the Hollywood Stars.

Al Lien was credited with the win, his fifth of the year and his first after four straight defeats, even though he gave up 12 hits and his team mates booted the ball around something fierce in the seventh inning.

Tommy Heath's charges lengthened their string of victories to two after dropping 10 games straight when they discovered that a little wood on the ball works wonders in the score books.

Trailing by one run in the eighth, the Seals exploded with a barrage of hits that drove the Star's relieved "Red" Lynn scurrying for the sanctuary of the locker room.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Poole of 506 S. W. Oak Street, Grants Pass, reports Austin doubled the mileage on tires over other cars they had in use in their taxi service in Santa Barbara; Austins in shops less time, repairs per car were less, and they figured had they used Austins 100%, they would have saved 12,000 dollars in their taxi operation. The first overhaul at 71,000 miles. Drivers preferred Austins, made more calls, less time laid up, more money in their pockets.

Yes, you can save money. The average family man, driving the average car is paying a continuous 6% interest $2500.00 in the cost of gasoline alone over the Austin car driver.
