

Progressives Prepare Political Campaign

By LYLE C. WILSON

Washington — (U.P.) — The Communist - sparked Progressive party has plunged into presidential politics again this year, but without the assistance of Henry A. Wallace.

Wallace had enough. FDR's one-time vice president was the Progressive candidate in 1948. He did not win any electoral votes at all, nor as many popular votes as he had expected. Worse, for Wallace, he failed in what partly was an attempt to prevent President Truman's re-election.

Diversion of left-wing votes did cut into Mr. Truman's totals around the country and, probably robbed him of New York. But Mr. Truman won, anyway, while Wallace fanned, swinging.

The Communist front which sponsored him, however, marches on. It is the American Labor Party of New York which provides the bone and sinew for the so-called Progressive party. The Communists long since took over the ALP in New York where it packs considerable political wallop.

Faithful Followers

Tito Marcantonio, former congressman and long a pal of the late Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia of New York, is top man in the Progressive set-up. He is best remembered here as a faithful follower of the Communist party line.

C. B. (Beanie) Baldwin is the Progressive campaign manager, a graduate of the Department of Agriculture when Wallace was secretary, and of other New Deal jobs. The Progressives have announced plans for their national convention in Chicago the week-end of July 4 and they plan to make it a great patriotic occasion by attacking practically everything for which the United States stands for.

Convention Slogan

Robert Morris Lovett will welcome the delegate to Illinois. Lovett also was a controversial job holder back in the 1930s and 40s.

The convention slogan will be: "Peace, It's Wonderful," combined with protests against powder - dry American efforts to avoid trouble with the Soviet Union. The delegates will merely confirm the choice of a presidential ticket already made: Vincent W. Hallinan for president and Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass for vice president.

Hallinan will not campaign any until early autumn. He is serving a six months contempt sentence imposed because of his performance as counsel for Harry Bridges, who, this time, was up on charges of perjury. He had denied under oath that he was a Communist.

Prospect Sergeant Earns Commendation

Army Sgt. First Class John Dolenscheck, Prospect, Ore., recently received a commendation from the commander of the Far Eastern Air Forces for his part in rescuing a downed flier who was under Communist fire in Korea, according to an Army press release.

Sgt. Dolenscheck was one of 14 men from Company E, 224th Infantry regiment, who volunteered to rescue the English flier after they saw him parachute from a stricken plane. The mission was successful, through the coordination of infantry, artillery and circling Air Force planes, the release said.

Lt. Gen. O. P. Weyland of the Air Force said that the action "is worthy of the highest praise and further cements the spirit of comradeship between the air and ground forces."

Construction Crews Preparing Chicago Convention Building

Chicago — (U.P.) — Crews of workmen swarmed through the vast Chicago convention Building Monday, preparing it for the Republican and Democratic national conventions next month.

The technicians expended their biggest effort in hurrying to complete the installation of a $350,000 air conditioning plant which will provide the politicians with their first air-conditioned conventions in history.

No Smoke-Filled Room

But the day of the traditional "smoke-filled room" will not be ended.

The plant will air condition only the big arena proper in which the conventions are held.

Caucus rooms, where party leaders will make important decisions will not be benefitted by the plant.

Neither will the rooms where newsmen, radiomen, television workers and communications experts will be working to carry the convention proceedings to the American public.

Officials Worried

Amphitheatre officials worried for a time that the steel strike might prevent completion of the air conditioning plant. But last week, the final required piece of machinery arrived.

It was a huge gear reduction mechanism, similar to an automobile overdrive, which will operate the plant's cooling compressor at 5,100 revolutions per minute.

But the air conditioning plant is only one item of the work being done to get the building ready.

A big scrubbing job must be completed, a special camera-man's box suspended from the girders and bunting must be hung.

Cables Being Installed

Experts are installing nine coaxial television cables, 2,200 pairs of telephone, radio and telegraph lines and hundreds of telephone booths. Wiring installations alone will cost more than $1,000,000.

Like the air conditioning plant, the communications lines will be left in place after the conventions end and will be available for future events at the amphitheatre such as the annual International Livestock exposition.

Hundreds of other details for the conventions were being taken care of throughout the city.

For example, local 10 of the American Federation of Musicians AFL was reading a 50-piece band which will tootle forth the favorite tunes of the two parties. The GOP announced that band leader Lou Breeser will conduct during the Republican convalescence.

The Democrats haven't chosen yet the man who will lead the band during their meeting. The Democrats have not announced whether the party's bandwagon will offer its 20-year-old theme of "Happy Days Are Here Again."

Broken Leg Suffered In One-Car Accident

One passenger suffered a broken leg and other occupants of the car received minor injuries late Saturday night in a one-car accident on highway 66 one mile east of Keene creek.

State police said that the vehicle, operated by David Clarence Peters, Ashland, went over the bank and down about 100 feet. George Owens reportedly suffered the leg fracture. Other occupants of the car were listed as Billie Owens, Lester Mayfield and Frank Mayfield.

Japan Ready To Expand Trade With Southwest Asia

Tokyo — (U.P.) — Free and independent Japan is ready to begin expanding her trade with southeast Asia.

In many places she not only will be competing against local producers but also the manufacturers of England and the United States.

American economic experts, who helped Japan get back on her feet, believe Japan's economic future is "reasonably bright."

Japan is in such a good position to begin the trade race because of the large amount of U. S. aid given her during the allied occupation. American officials said the aid was in excess of $2,000,000,000.

New Self-supporting

On the day the occupation ended, Japan already was enjoying a self-supporting economy with industrial activity some 45 per cent above pre-war levels, according to an official spokesman at American headquarters here. He said the Japanese living standard was "closely comparable" to that prevailing in the pre-war years.

An end-of-the-occupation report by General Matthew B. Ridgway's headquarters summed up the situation as follows:

"The Japanese economy has been converted from a condition of virtual inactivity and chaos to a thriving, integral member of the free world economy. Japan currently has a favorable balance of payments in her international accounts, her industry has been rehabilitated in large measure, and significant democratic institutional reforms have been transpired in such spheres as labor, industrial organization, banking, agriculture and fisheries."

Some Fear Expressed

While that is good news to the Japanese, there are many other people who view Japan's economic position as a potential menace — fearing their first might be economic aggression and then renewed Japanese military aggression.

The Japanese, while admitting that they intend to build up their trade as much as possible, con-

You Were Going to Give Blood?

TELL IT TO THIS MARINE!

What are the chances of a wounded GI coming through? That depends—on blood. Without blood, fatalities would go up sharply. With blood, we save 97 out of every 100 who reach even the most forward hospitals.

So blood will tell. Your blood. Of course you intend to give blood. The butcher, the banker, the milkman, the mayor . . . all Americans are "rolling up their sleeves" these days.

But wounds won't wait . . . and right now, your Armed Forces are short 300,000 pints of blood a month. That means we're dipping into precious reserves . . . scraping the bottom of a barrel that should be overflowing if our men are to live for democracy!

Make that date today, won't you? And keep it. Don't wait till it's too late. There's no percentage in one American giving his blood the hard way . . . when you can save it the easy way.
