Miss Ady said the class to be taught from 3 to 9 p. m. on June 24, 25 and 26 must be limited in size and she is anxious that art students who are interested reserve classroom space. The course will be taught by Cleo Heller, San Francisco.

Arrangements have been made to grant one unit of college credit for the workshop, Miss Ady said, and those planning to seek such credit should register officially at the college office. Those who will audit the class may do so free of charge, but should enroll with Miss Ady.

Students are asked to bring to class a pair of scissors, an empty coffee can, paint clothes and two large water color crushes. All other materials will be furnished.
