

Studs Nick Dunsmuir 5-4, Play Weed Friday

Idle this week-end in their own Southwestern Oregon Baseball league, the Medford Cheney Studs will be host here Friday to Weed of the Northern California circuit. Time of the game is 8 p.m.

Derald Wooten is scheduled to pitch for Medford and Clarence Melby, now attending summer school, is expected to be on hand for the third base spot.

Weed currently is holding down second position in the standings of its league. Either Barron or Berdonni may get the call as starting pitcher for the Californians.

Medford's Cheney Studs would like for other rivals to be as obliging as the Dunsmuir, Calif. Merchants were here last night. The Dunsmuir nine practically gave the game away to the Studs.

Medford went to bat in the ninth and final stanza of the tussle trailing 2 to 4. The Studs pushed over one run with a pair of hits. Then the Merchants blew sky high with four errors. Result: Two more runs and a 5 to 4 Medford victory.

Terry Maddox led off the inning for the Studs with a double. Alex McDonald scored him with a single and went to second base on the first misplay of the inning, an error on Shortstop Jim Daugherty.

Frank Roelandt hit a high fly which was dropped by White in left field and McDonald advanced to third base. McDonald was out on Snuffy Smith's fielder's choice and Roelandt went to second. Roelandt moved to third, Smith was safe at second as Wooton's fielder's choice loaded the bases. Smith was safe because Second Baseman Mazzei was unable to hang onto the ball in the attempted forceout.

Norm Lucich hit a ground ball to shortstop. As Wooton was forced at second Roelandt crossed home with a run that tied the score at 4 to 4. Second Baseman Mazzei heaved the ball to first base in a double play try that would have ended the inning. But the ball skinned through the dirt and went by first base allowing Smith to score the winning run.

Two in Sixth
Medford's other two runs in the sixth stanza were given away also by Dunsmuir. Four walks and an error contributed to the score-making.

Roy Root started as pitcher for the Merchants and held the Studs hitless for three innings. He walked three men, all of whom were caught off base or forced out. Root gave way to Jim Scott in the fourth and Scott weathered that frame in good style.

In the fifth the Studs got the bases loaded on two walks, a hit by Lucich and a sacrifice by George Gitzen. But Maddox fanned and McDonald grounded out to retire the side before a run could cross.

GUARDS STUDS' PASTURE—Snuffy Smith, an outfielder who is among the run-batted-in leaders in the Southwestern Oregon league, is slated to hold down the center field chores Friday night for the Medford Cheney Studs when the Studs collide with Weed, Calif., in a non-league fray. Smith shifted to the Studs this season after being a hitting leader last year in Northern California league play. The Friday game will be at 8 p.m. (Richards studio, Tacoma)

Studs drew consecutive walks. Wooton got on base on an error and a run came home. Two more walks forced over the other tally.

Dunsmuir got its first marker in the third inning when Dougherty was hit by a pitch and Root tripled him home. Two Merchant runs were tabulated in the sixth canto in three Stud errors and hits by Ron Behnke and Bob Fidler. The other counter was in the ninth on an error, wild pitch, single by Dougherty and flyout by White.

Carl Hueners, guest hurler of the evening for the Studs, pitched good ball during his eight innings of action. He was lifted for Moose Blevins, a pinch-hitter in the eighth and Cliff Piland tossed the final inning. Hueners, chucker for the Central Point Millers, allowed four hits, walked two, hit one batter and whiffed nine.

Eight-Game Schedule Announced For 1952 Red Raider Grid Team

Ashland—Southern Oregon college will meet all four teams of the Oregon Collegiate conference as well as regular Western conference opponents in football contests next fall, according to a tentative schedule announced today by Donald E. Lewis, business manager.

The Red Raiders are members of the four-team Far Western loop officially, but have been invited on numerous occasions to join the Oregon league. Lewis said that Southern Oregon still honors its Far Western affiliation and will not compete with the Oregon colleges in official league play.

A season opener against Linfield at McMinnville is the only game scheduled outside of the two leagues, Lewis said. An open date September 20 may still be filled, however.

Teams which will appear in Ashland games will be Eastern Oregon college, Portland State (formerly Vanport) and the Cal Aggies. The Raiders will meet Oregon College of Education at Coos Bay on October 4 in the annual Shriners' Myrtle Bowl game.

The complete schedule tentatively outlined follows:

Sept. 12, Linfield college at McMinnville; Sept. 27, * Eastern Oregon college at Ashland; Oct. 4, * Oregon College of Education at Coos Bay; Oct. 11,  Humboldt State college at Arcata; Oct. 18,  Chico State college at Chico; Oct. 25, * Oregon Technical Institute at Klamath Falls; Nov. 1, * Portland State college at Ashland; Nov. 8,  Cal Aggies at Ashland. * Oregon Collegiate Conference.  Far Western Conference.

Fish Said Many In Lower Rogue

"There are more fish in the river at this time than I have ever seen at any time in the last six years I have lived here."

That is the report on the lower Rogue river made early this week by A. N. McLennan, who operates Mack's motel and fishing resort at Wedderburn.

McLennan described the multitude of fish as "a very strange situation" because June is generally regarded as a poor fishing month.

Boats were checked from Agness to Gold Beach last week. There were 14 fishing with an average of 11 1/2 fishermen per boat. Most boats had one fisherman. For the week ending last Sunday night 299 fish were caught. "When a few boats go out and catch their limit, fishing is good," McLennan remarked. Largest fish caught was a 34 1/2-pounder by Edith Wing, San Bernardino, Calif.

"The fish are here but where are the fishermen?" McLennan asked.
