Electricians, Central Pointers Win Softball Association Tiffs

Trowbridge and Flynn meets the Crater Lions at 7:30 p.m. and Central Point plays Mobilgas in the second game at the senior high stadium today in Medford Softball association men's league competition.

Trowbridge and Flynn and Central Point each tasted victory last night. The electric company, in its first loop appearance, downed Andy's Jewelers 13 to 4 and Central Point got by Camp White 5 to 3.

Despite the lopsided count in the T and F and Andy's fracas, it was an extra-inning conflict. T and F took a 4 to 0 lead in the

7 Americans In English Net Tussles

Wimbledon, Eng.—(U.P.)—Seven star Americans, led by defending champion Dick Savitt and U. S. top-ranked ace Vic Seixas, were slated for action Wednesday in the second round of men's singles play in the Wimbledon lawn tennis championships.

In addition, two U. S. lasses were scheduled for play in the second round of women's singles and four more, including injured Maureen Connolly, in the third round.

Muscle Injured
Miss Connolly, the 17-year-old U. S. champion from San Diego, Calif., was matched against Angela Mortimer of Britain, a rival that ordinarily she would be favored to swamp. But "Little Mo" was competing with a painful muscle injury in her shoulder—and is playing against the advice of her coach and her doctor.

Miss Connolly winced with pain as she downed Barbara Moeller of Britain Tuesday, 6-2, 6-0.

In the men's singles today, Savitt, the defending champion from Orange, N. J., who is seeded only fourth this year, was matched against Gerald Oakley of Britain, while Seixas of Philadelphia was pitted against Ernest Buchholz of Germany. Both Yanks were expected to win in routine fashion and pace a mass advance into the third round.

However, 38-year-old Gardner Mulloy of Coral Gables, Fla., drew a tough opponent in young Ken Rosewall of Australia.

Medalist Dick Hanen of Coos Bay played 16 holes in one under figures to defeat E. R. Jones of Portland 4 and 2.

The only leading contender for the women's crown to taste defeat was Mrs. W. W. Davies of Medford. She lost a 1-up decision to Mrs. Si Sylvester of Portland. Pat Lesser of Seattle, medalist and a strong favorite, defeated Mrs. Naomi Kidd of Portland.

Davey, Vejar Scrap Tonight

Detroit—(U.P.)—Chuck Davey, the former school teacher, looked to end tonight's 10-round bout with Chico Vejar to an early welterweight title match, possibly before the end of the year.

The cunning southpaw who has both brains and brawn whipped Vejar decisively in an earlier meeting and he said there's no reason why he shouldn't repeat.

A second victory over Vejar would move the 26-year-old Detroit to within one notch of the big fight for the crown now worn by Kid Gavilan.

Chick Harbert, Jimmy Turnesa In PGA Finale

Louisville, Ky.—(U.P.)—Burly Chick Harbert and squat Jimmy Turnesa met Wednesday for the PGA golf championship—and for one of them it means final satisfaction after previous disappointments.

Harbert, the long distance hitter from Northville, Mich., went to the finals in 1947 only to lose to big Jim Ferrier.

Turnesa, the quiet little par-busting automaton, had his chance 10 years ago and lost in that 1942 final to Slammin' Sammy Snead.

One of them was going to make it today—and for the other it will be disappointment all over again.

No Predictions
Neither of them made any predictions of victory, for both were veterans of the tournament trail who knew they faced a rough struggle.

"You can't foretell these things," said the 39-year-old Turnesa after reaching the finals by beating Ted Kroll of New Hartford, N.Y., 4 and 2.

The handsome 37-year-old Harbert was slightly more voluble after his 2 and 1 win over

Bob Hamilton of Evansville, Ind., in the semi-finals at Big Spring Golf Club.

"Nobody ever won the PGA easily," he said. "I don't expect to be an exception. You can't say Turnesa is slipping when he shoots 10 or 11 strokes under par. I'm glad I didn't play him in the semi-finals."
