

Beavers Call Cal McIrvin

By UNITED PRESS
Life looked rosy for big Cal McIrvin Thursday. He not only was on his way up to the Portland Beavers, but he also closed out his Western International league service by pitching the Victoria Tyees to a 4-3 win over Vancouver Wednesday night.

The victory was McIrvin's 10th against three losses and snapped the league-leaders' four-game losing streak.

Big Crowd Out At Portland for Basinski Night

Portland—(UP)—Just five persons short of 6,000 fans, a big crowd for a sixth place team on a cloudy night, honored Eddie Basinski, Portland's stellar second baseman, Wednesday night.

And Eddie needed a small barn Thursday to store all his presents. He got everything from an iced salmon, presented by Astoria fans, to a golf cart.

"This is the most memorable occasion of my life, and one I certainly will never forget," said the bespectacled infielder who has played the violin with a philharmonic orchestra.

ROWLAND PRESENT

Among those on hand were Clarence Rowland, president of the Pacific Coast League, and Mrs. Grover Alexander, widow of the immortal "O! Pete."

After the ceremonies, the Beavers went out and won the ball game from Sacramento, 3-1. The win was not only a present for Basinski, but one for Red Adams, the hard luck Beaver hurler who now has won two in a row.

Basinski had a single in two official trips to the plate, one put out and one assist. Fittingly, he made the final put out of the game and stuffed the ball in his pocket.

How to curry favor with your husband

It's easy with Ann Batchelder's mouth-watering Hawaiian shrimp curry. It's a sure cure for a husband's faded July appetite. And in this month's issue, the Ladies' Home Journal's food editor tells you how to make it the feast of a lifetime surrounded by sautéed bananas, tomato-and-avocado salad and a row.

MEDFORD TRIBUNE SPORTS

Maxim Victor; Heat Halts Ray Robinson

New York—(UP)—Joey Maxim Thursday gave thanks for the unprecedented heat that helped cause the collapse of Sugar Ray Robinson and save his light heavyweight crown.

Cleveland Joey admitted he knew Robinson was "way ahead" when the end came on a technical knockout at the start of the 14th round.

Slender Robinson, the middleweight champion who was trying to win the light-heavy title, was unable to answer the bell at the start of the 14th because of the 104-degree heat in Yankee Stadium and because of the body punishment he received from a man who out-weighted him 15½ pounds.

Highest Heat
A surprisingly large crowd of 47,968 witnessed the postponed fight in which a good big man beat a good little man—in an even. The gross gate was $421,696.

The heat—highest ever registered for any professional fight—was so terrific that it forced referee Ruby Goldstein to leave the ring at the end of the 10th round and be replaced by referee Ray Miller.

Robinson was treated an hour for heat prostration in the dressing room.

Sugar Ray—although out-weighted 173 pounds to 157½—gave Maxim such a thorough licking in the first 11 rounds that judge Harold Barnes scored 10 rounds for Robinson and three for Maxim. Judge Arthur Aidala had Sugar Ray ahead, 9-3-1. The United Press favored him 10-2-1.

Had to Chase
Referee Goldstein's score card was not available, but successor Miller gave Robinson the 11th, and awarded the 12th and 13th to Maxim.

Maxim said today: "It would have been one helluva fight on a cool night. Yes, the heat bothered me a little; but I got behind because I had to keep chasing the little fellow and couldn't catch up with him."

He admitted Sugar Ray was a good puncher. That was quite an understatement; for Robinson staggered him several times—particularly in the seventh and ninth rounds, when it seemed Joey must suffer the second knockout in his career of 100 professional bouts.

Nearly Helpless
Robinson appeared to wilt in the 12th round. In the 13th he floundered about in near helplessness. Maxim staggered him with two left hooks. Then Joe drove him half through the ropes with a barrage to the head.

In a final, deperation attempt, Robinson threw a wild right at Maxim's head. The blow missed and Robinson fell face downwards on the hot canvas. He rose quickly but lurched about the ring helplessly. Just before the bell a left hook to the head sent him lurching sideways.

Slumped onto the ropes in a neutral corner after the bell rang, his handlers rushed over and half-carried him to his corner.

Referee Miller called Dr. Alexander Schiff into the ring. Schiff advised Robinson that he had enough. Ray's handlers agreed. The bell for the 14th round rang, and Robinson remained slumped on his stool in the corner.

Spunky Yvars Gets Chance, Spurs Giants

By UNITED PRESS

Spunky Sal Yvars, the perennial wallflower of the Giant dug-out, suddenly found himself in baseball's seventh heaven today, and it took a long time considering the guy got his start in Valhalla, N. Y.

Yvars, overlooked so often during a six-year bench-warming career with the Giants that he sometimes wondered if Manager Leo Durocher knew he was on the roster, overnight became the "belle of the ball."

Goes to Work

The burst of popularity developed when first-string catcher ace Wes Westrum suffered a broken index finger on his throwing hand last Thursday. Since big Ray Noble had been sent to Oakland, that left Yvars as the only available catcher on the roster.

Yvars went to work and the Giants crossed their fingers, hoping he wouldn't get his bashed up. He took charge brilliantly, steering the pitchers to five straight victories, throwing men out on steals and pickoffs, and batted at a .350 pace with seven hits in 20 at bat.

Wednesday, as the Giants won a 3 to 2 score sweep over the Reds it was a single by Yvars which touched off the winning rally in the eighth. He came around to score on a sacrifice, an infield out, and Whitley Lockman's single. Don Mueller and Bob Elliott hit earlier Giant homers and Cal Abrams got one for Cincy.

Jim Turnesa PGA Titlist

Louisville, Ky.—(UP)—After 25 years of disappointment and 42 years of trying, a swarthy little man named Jim held the P.G.A. championship today for the "golfing Turnesasus."

He won it on his second bid in the heat-mothered finals at Big Spring Golf Club Wednesday with a dogged comeback 36-hole triumph over slugging Chick Harbert.

The seven Turnesa brothers had sought to win this match play marathon a long time, ever since 1910. Three times before they came as close as you can without winning.

Joe Turnesa lost to the immortal Walter Hagen, 1 down, in the 1927 finals.

This same Jim, failed as he was beaten by Slammin' Sam Snead, 2 and 1, in the 1942 finals.

And Mike Turnesa blew it badly to Bantam Ben Hogan in the 1948 finals, 7 and 6.

But Jim got even for all of them Wednesday as he fought from behind a 3 down deficit at 18 holes, battled to be only 1 down at 27, squared it on the 32nd and won it, finally, on the 36th and final hole.

Layne-Charles Tussle Slated

Ogden—(UP)—Kenny Mayne, Ogden promoter, announced Thursday the signing of a 15-round bout between heavyweights Ezard Charles and Rex Layne of Lewiston, Utah, Aug. 6, in Ogden stadium.

Charles was guaranteed $50,000 for the fight. Mayne said the ex-heavyweight champion will arrive in Ogden two weeks before the fight and set up training quarters in Ogden canyon.

Chuck Davey Stops Vejar

Detroit—(UP)—Chuck Davey, the cunning ex-school teacher with an educated left hand, said today he's ready for big game—a shot at the welterweight crown.

A fifth round knockout over Chico Vejar Wednesday night lifted high the spirits and also the prestige of the 26-year-old Detroit who owns a master's degree from Michigan State college.

It was his second victory over the 20-year-old New York University student, Vejar, who held a two-pound weight advantage over Davey at 149½, protected his tender mid-section well during the first four rounds, but was caught by surprise in the fifth.
