Deposits in City's Banks Announced; Totals $36,000,000

Recent reports of condition of the First National bank of Portland and the United States National bank show that the Medford branches of the two banking systems have a combined deposit of nearly $36 million.

The deposit figure at the First National branch was reported as $20,186,939 by Manager Eugene Thorndike. Allen F. Perry, manager of the United States National branch, said his bank had a deposit total of $15,728,314.

The United States National bank reported an all-time high total deposit of $594,580,475. This is the highest for any banking system in Oregon. Total deposits in First National's 46 statewide banking offices were $543,840,875.

Thorndike also announced a loan total at the Medford First National branch of $9,828,374. Loans at the United States National branch totaled $8,329,788, Perry said.

"The substantial gains in deposits and in loans and discounts during the past year are significant indications of the continuing growth of this state," according to Perry.

Man Now Authority On Lightning Bolts

Omaha — (U.P.) — How does it feel to be struck by lightning? Arnold M. Martin, Sr., Omaha, who has been struck twice, said it feels like being "hit by a baseball bat."

Martin, who was struck Sunday night while working at the Union Stockyards, said he was out in the rain when suddenly he saw a "blue flash."

"At the same time, the back of my neck with a baseball bat. I felt a current go down my back and spread to both legs. Then I fell on my face."

Both legs were paralyzed, but doctors said Martin will recover. He was struck once before 22 years ago in West Point, Iowa.

Candidates' Wives Keeping In Touch At Television Sets

Chicago — (U.P.) — Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower shares her husband's confidence that the Republican presidential nomination is his.

But she is sticking to what friends call "Mamie's count-your-chickens-when-they're-hatched" philosophy.

Mrs. Eisenhower was openly jubilant Monday over Ike's victory in the first test of strength among convention delegates. She admitted to reporters that she gave a rousing cheer when the news came over her television set in the Eisenhower suite.

Whatever Happens Right
As for the final outcome of the nomination contest, she summed it up: "What's going to be is going to be. Whatever happens will be right."

Mrs. Eisenhower and Mrs. Robert A. Taft both are keeping in touch with events at Convention hall by television. Neither has been to the Amphitheater. Both expect to be on hand for the nominating speeches that formerly put their husband's names before the convention.

Martha Taft, still recovering from a stroke suffered two years ago, spent all of Monday in her hotel suite, resting and keeping track of latest developments in the nominating race. Monday night's hand - shaking with GOP delegates left her "a little" tired. Tuesday she planned a similar venture, this time a tea for several hundred women.

Watches Television
Mrs. Taft stayed up past her usual bedtime Monday night to watch the televised broadcast of the keynote address of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, one of her husband's strongest boosters.

Mrs. Eisenhower, too, tuned in on the MacArthur speech. Earlier, with what seemed to be deliberate emphasis, Mamie declared that "I am not going" to Convention hall to hear her husband's former boss speak in person.

Heretofore, Mrs. Eisenhower has shrunk from the give-and-take of press conferences. But she broke the rule Monday to turn up at a tea, staged by Eisenhower backers, where she answered all questions.

Seems Surprised
She seemed surprised when one reporter asked if she would campaign with the general if he wins the nomination.

"I'll go every place I can with him," she said. "I've followed him for 36 years. I'm not going to stop now."

Mamie gave her own private formula for getting through the endless lines of hand-shakers. "I take off my West Point ring. I learned that long ago."

MEDFORD (OREGON) MAIL TRIBUNE—FIVE

Coddling Moth Spray Advised

Another cover spray for coddling moth control for all Rogue valley apples should be applied now, according to County Horticulturist C. B. Cordy.

The recommended application is two pounds of 50 per cent DDT to each 100 gallons, or 10 pounds per acre. Using small hand sprayers, the recommended mixture is one-half pound DDT to five gallons, with five gallons to a mature tree. This is not recommended for commercial pears, as the moth is more easily controlled in this fruit. However, this application can also be put on pears in home orchards where the worms have been a problem.

A DDT spray should also be applied by July 12 to the trunks and crotches of all stone fruit trees for control of peach root borers, earwigs and ants.

Use eight pounds of 50 per cent DDT per 100 gallons for this application, and soak the trunks enough so some runs off into the soil, according to L. G. Gentner, entomologist at the Southern Oregon Branch Experiment station, and Cordy. This spray should be repeated in early August, the two men noted, with timing especially important as it is to replace PDB.

Hollywood — (U.P.) — That nude beauty who scammed in her birthday suit through "Ecstasy" wasn't Hedy Lamarr all the time after all but her stand-in, too, the producer of the movie revealed Tuesday.

This famous 1931 epic was Hedy's movie debut, and she's been trying to forget it ever since.

Some scenes had Hedy swimming, minus her bathing suit, in a pool in a forest.

"But for many of the shots a stand-in was used," shrugged Josef Auerbach, a Czechoslovakian who produced the film. "It wasn't even Hedy. She didn't have such a good figure then."

Auerbach flew into movie-town in connection with "Forgotten Love," a movie he made

Shady Cove

Shady Cove-Trail — Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Close of Big Butte creek over the 4th of July week-end are Mr. and Mrs. Loyel Hall and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Horn and daughter, Carleen, of Lodi, Calif.

Word has been received by relatives of SFC John G. Dolenshek, son of John Dolenshek of Prospect, and nephew of Frank Dolenshek of Trail, of his receiving the award of a Silver Star for "gallantry in action" in rescuing a downed British air observer in enemy territory on May 27. He was one of a company of two officers and 14 enlisted men of Easy Company, 224th Infantry Regiment who rescued the wounded aviator who had bailed out. The volunteers brought the wounded man back safely through minefields in a running fight with the enemy. The silver star awards praise the different members of the patrol, in part, for "courageously exposing themselves to enemy fire . . . unflinching devotion to duty . . . complete disregard for personal safety . . . calmness under fire . . . decisive action . . ."

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Shere of Ashland were recent week-end visitors at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shere of Big Butte, Trail.
