

Rogue Valley Residents Enjoy Summer Outings

(By Olive Starcher)

Holiday and week-ends find hundreds of Rogue valley residents leaving work-a-day cares behind to fish, swim or go boating on one of the near-by lakes or rivers, or to camp and picnic at a favorite spot.

Last week-end, with extra time available because of the July Fourth holiday, recreation spots throughout the area were crowded. At Diamond lake, many Medford, Grants Pass and Klamath Falls families spent the long week-end at their summer homes, camping, or at the lake resort.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Goldy, Medford, had a number of guests at their Diamond lake cabin. Shown (at top-left to right), are Mrs. Wilbur C. Judy, Mrs. Richard Henselman, Mrs. Curt Madson, Portland, holding her daughter, Cynthia, Mr. Judy, Mr. Madson and Mr. Henselman enjoying the sun on the lake shore. Mt. Thielsen is in the background.

In the playpen are the Henselmans' son, David, (in corner) and the Judy's daughter, Patricia. The Goldys and their guests spent the time swimming, fishing and boating, with an occasional game of pitching horseshoes.

Camping at the Short Creek forest camp were Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Gross, their daughter, Sandra, and son, Roy (at left center). The Gross family lives at 828 Palm street here.

The campers selected a spot from where they could see Mt. Bailey across the lake for their campsite and were toasting marshmallows at the campfire when the photographer came along.

Shown (center right), are members of the Summer Home Owners' association of Diamond lake and their families who took advantage of the holiday week-end and held a picnic and association meeting at the lake home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Leverette. Mr. Leverette is president of the association.
