

Oregon's Visitors Write Appreciative Comments in Book

By WILLIAM WARREN
Salem—(U.P.)—This state of Oregon is, to thousands of visitors from other states and several foreign countries, a state of happiness.

You will find the proof in the large register atop the tourist information desk on the first floor of the capitol where James McGilchrist, veteran capitol guide, and his two whistle-inspiring aides, Mary Louise Lee and Sally Jo Grimm, hold forth.

Capitol Swarming

The capitol is swarming these days with visitors, and Jim, as McGilchrist is known to everyone, and Mary Louise and Sally Jo conduct some 20 tours a day, from the ground floor rotunda with its beautiful murals to the top of the tall dome where stands the Golden Pioneer with his axe. You see the Salem country from the Cascades to the Coast Range on clear days when you visit the Golden Pioneer.

And what do tourists think of the capitol and of the state it represents? Give a look at the register:

From a Michigan guest: "Our first trip here. The beauty is unbelievable. Enjoyed every minute. Everyone very friendly."

From a Texan: "Oregon, a land of beauty."

And from a Californian yet: "Incomparable."

From Nicaragua came this Latin neighborly observation: "Beautiful beyond words."

Likes Murals

A visitor from Vancouver, B. C., noted the striking rotunda and wrote: "Lovely murals."

The tour is made doubly enjoyable, tourists say, by the friendly attention of Jim and his two eye-fidels. Mary Louise Lee graduated from Willamette university last June and Sally Jo Grimm will be a sophomore there in the fall.

One tourist evidently hadn't been here since the old capitol burned in 1935. She wrote:

"All new to me. Was here when the old building was up. A beautiful building."

And this from Los Angeles: "This is one of the most beautiful capitols in the Union."

Another tourist wrote: "Try and beat it. And still another 'It's a nicey.'"

But from Kentucky came this squelcher:

"Fair-to-middlin'. Not as pretty as the salt flats."

PAPER NOT KIDDING

Battle Creek, Mich. — (U.P.) — This city's only daily newspaper, the Battle Creek Enquirer and News, headlined a page-one story, "Mercury Drops to 27 Year-Low" on one of the hottest days of the year. The paper had an explanation, however. A fine-print note said, "Reprinted for your pleasure from the Dec. 17, 1951, edition of the Enquirer and News."

4-H'ers Planning Camp May Register

All 4-H club members in Jackson county who wish to attend Camp Greyback, July 28 to August 2, are urged to file their applications in the county agent's office by July 16, according to R. H. Cate Jr., county agent in 4-H work.

Any club member who has his work up to date may attend, the agent said, with the cost being $10.50 for camp tuition, plus transportation if the bus is used. Bus fare will be $3.50 for a round trip with buses leaving the courthouse at 8:15 a.m. on July 28, with a stop at Rogue River at 9:15.

Activities at the camp will include swimming, hiking, natural crafts, cook outs, a sleep out, and others, the agent noted.

For Recreation

Co-directors for the camp will be Miss Eula Wintermote, home economics agent, and Cate. The latter described the camp as being primarily for recreation, giving the members a chance to relax with such things as crafts, nature studies and swimming.

A health examination will be required of all attendants and may be obtained July 24 and 25 from the county health physician in the courthouse, or from a private physician.

The theme of this year's camp will be "Let's Go Western," with cowboy dress in order. Further information about the camp may be obtained at the county agent's office.

State Department Calls for China Probe

Washington — (U.P.) — The State Department said Monday it has called for an investigation into Chinese embassy messages which allegedly revealed a plot to steal U. S. atomic secrets.

It said the Justice Department has agreed, at its request, to try to determine whether the cables actually were sent by the embassy or whether they were forgeries.

Spokesman Lincoln White said the department revealed its action in a letter Undersecretary of State David Bruce sent Sen. Wayne Morse, (R-Ore.), on June 24.

Morse introduced the messages into the Congressional Record recently and in a letter June 9 asked the state Department to decide whether they were authentic.

White said the Justice Department would make handwriting comparisons in attempt to identify the authors of the messages. He emphasized, however, that the check would be restricted to this question and would not include a look into the so-called China lobby.

Bear cubs are surprisingly small at birth, being about eight inches long and weighing from nine to 12 ounces.
