Your Health and Its Care

HAS ANYBODY A WELL BALANCED DIET?

Although babies today are a great deal healthier and happier than babies were when you and I were babies, I am sure that it is sad to note that there are still too many cases of pre-school age with malnutrition. These children are tired, irritable and listless. Compared with healthy children they look pale. Usually they are anemic, but the moderate anemia is the consequence not the cause of their faulty nutrition.

In many instances one of the causes of this condition is failure to wean the baby completely and finally from breast and/or bottle before the baby is 11 months old. Only the fittest mothers can successfully nurse a baby ten months and in any case it is well to supplement breast feeding with bottle feeding when the baby is eight months old, or better, with feeding from cup or spoon if the baby will take food that way. This makes the weaning process simpler.

The excessive indulgence in sugar, in the form of candy, ice cream, cookies, cake and pop, by young children is a common factor of malnutrition. Not that these sweets are harmful but when a youngster has free access to such things he or she has little appetite for real food.

Another cause of pre-school age malnutrition is the assurance or advice so frequently parroted by doctors who by now should know better, that a "well balanced" diet supplies all the vitamins and minerals the body needs. This half-baked utterance has probably prompted many parents to discontinue supplementing the baby's diet with vitamin C and vitamin D after the first few months.

Still another common cause of pre-school age malnutrition is misunderstanding of the recommendation of health and nutrition authorities that every child should have not less than 11 pints (three glasses) of milk daily. This does not mean that milk alone is adequate, even for the youngest infant. Milk is probably the most nearly perfect food, but still it is deficient in vitamin C, vitamin D, iron and, for many children, in vitamin B complex. Therefore it is necessary to supplement the diet with these essentials of good nutrition, particularly when milk is, as it should be, the main sustenance, as in infancy and childhood, or requisite for vete in youth and maturity (is in the basic or pattern health diet outlined in The 7 Keys to Vite, for which send 25c and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ask any doctor who parrots the dictum that you get all the vitamins and minerals you need from a "well balanced" diet. The most enlightening answer you are likely to get is: Any fool knows what a well balanced diet is.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS
Food and Complexion
I am 18 and have oily skin and large pores. Most girls my age eat whatever they want and have good complexions. I'm very careful about my diet. (G. H.)
Answer—It seems too bad for a child to be so careful about diet. Send 25c and stamped, self-addressed envelope for booklet SAVE YOUR SKIN.

Mine Safety Measure Signed by President

Washington — (U.P.) — Federal inspectors now have authority to close unsafe coal mines if operators refuse to correct undesirable conditions.

President Truman signed the legislation this week. It was a major victory for President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers, who has battled more than 50 years for enactment of such a law.

Congressional passage of the law was spurred by the mine explosion in West Frankfort, Ill., last December which killed 119 miners.

NY Stock Exchange Changes Trading Day

New York — (U.P.) — The New York Stock Exchange Thursday shattered a 78-year precedent by lengthening its trading day by one-half hour.

Governors of the exchange after a lengthy meeting voted to extend the trading day to 3:30 p.m. EDT from the present 3 p.m. closing.

At the same time, the governors voted to eliminate future Saturday trading.

The new hours are effective on Sept. 29 when the summer Saturday closings would have ended.

Navy Secretary Confirms High Speed of Rocket

Los Angeles — (U.P.) — Secretary of the Navy Dan A. Kimball has confirmed that Navy's D-582-2 Skyrocket has flown 1,238 miles per hour and urged American scientists to develop an even better atomic-powered plane.

In a statement issued by naval officers at Kimball's news conference, the secretary officially confirmed reports of the rocket plane's amazing speed and said it had reached an altitude of 79,494 feet in a test flight.

years. Now I crave and eat it a block a week. (Mrs. S. C.)

Answer—It interferes with assimilation of calcium and a good many common complaints are due to calcium deficiency. Try chewing a mouthful of plain wheat or raw oat meal or both together. Instead, these natural foods are good chewing and good for nutrition and health.

Doctor Keeps Customer Worried
Six months of the year I work in the office in town, and six months running cattle on my ranch. For years all that my annual physical examination shows is a trace of albumen in urine. But the doctor just shakes his head and says we must watch it. He never tells me what it means or may mean or what can be done. (H. C. R.)
Answer—Obviously the doctor is stringing you along. If he doesn't know whether it means anything, he should say so. That is, if he is your own doctor and not the company's. Protected 1932 by John F. Dille Co. National Newspaper Syndicate, Chicago 6, Illinois.
