It is good to be back in Oregon after 10 days weathering fog and cold in the San Francisco Bay region. The trip was made via the new bus service chartered by the SP to replace passenger train service between Grants Pass and Dunsmuir.

All things considered, it is an enjoyable modern journey between here and San Francisco, with not too much train ride (six hours) and not too much bus travel (three hours). Careful driving of the big buses and air conditioning make for ease of mind and comfort.

Not many passengers take advantage of the service as yet, however. The scenic advantages are extraordinary. A 10 minute layover at the Yreka Coffee shop breaks the monotony.

And something has perked up the service on the streamliners. The return trip was noticeable in this respect, especially in the diners.

As a traveling companion into Medford from the Dunsmuir connection, Matt S. Thomas, a Navy veteran of World War II, was aboard. He was driving up here to investigate some magnesium deposits in which he is interested and ran into a culvert near Bakersfield, Calif. He was hauled out of the wreckage, dusted off and sent on his way by SP's friendly service.

It is interesting to recall at this stage of matters political that Bill Hurn is a personal acquaintance of Dwight Eisenhower, and George Tallmadge corresponds frequently with Jim Farley, who in the state of division in the ranks, is almost the sole personification of the Democratic party that was.

Very few people who know George I. Tallmadge are aware of his special service to Uncle Sam in the Philippines after the Spanish American war. Having served there during the war he was familiar with the habits of the natives and was on such good terms with them that he became a civilian scout.

Some of his exploits, both dangerous and full of adventure, in the tracking down of Aguinaldo, making exciting tales of a little known chapter of American frontier warfare across the Pacific.

"In dealing with the natives, I always made them understand that I was their friend," he says in explanation of his ability to go into any camp unharmed.

"One night I went to a hut to sleep, knocked and received the reply of a man, 'Who is there?' I told him in his own language

On The Side

The years are coming and going. Whole races are borne to their rest. But never ceases the passion that burns within my breast. Only once more I would see you And make you a low salam. And with my dying breath murmur: I love you still, Madame. —Heine

A New Yorker strongly re-resents my statement that Geraldine Farrar's performance of the highly baffling role of Carmen was only fair. That, of course, is a matter of opinion. However, the gentleman refers to Miss Farrar as "the first American singer to essay the role of Carmen." That will cost him one Pittsburgh stogie. The role of Carmen was created by an American. By a singer who was born in New York City, reared what I wanted. It was very dark inside and to show my friendship, I took off my cartridge belt and gun and handed them to him.

"He led me to the straw bunk I was to occupy and it was so dark I couldn't see who was sleeping beside me. In the morning I found it was his wife and daughter."

Tallmadge has a tattoo mark on his leg symbolic of the blood brotherhood he shares with a Filipino, and it helped him in many of the tight situations he faced. Striking from ambush with the cruel bolo knife was the hazard of this campaign in these days.

in Leavenworth, Kan., and made her operatic debut in Brooklyn. I am referring, of course, to the great Minnie Hauk, to whom Bizet, the composer referred as "the ideal Carmen."

Horses and Women

Many young women are now helping their escorts pay the restaurant and night club checks. This situation prevails when a career girl is taken out by a young fellow whose salary is not unusually large. In helping pay the check the girl does not feel she is being imposed upon, nor is the young man embarrassed. So I note it reported. Very interesting, if true. I am having our Horses & Women experts check on it. I do not approve of the situation. The man should always have the privilege of paying the check. If the girl wants to help him she can take care she doesn't build up the tab by ordering extravagantly.

That Club

A group of Californians is reportedly grooming Harry Coleman of San Francisco to run for president of the "I Was There Club." Mr. Coleman is truly a formidable candidate. He was present at the SS General Slocum disaster in New York in which over a thousand lives were lost, the San Francisco fire and earthquake, the Young Corbett-Terry McGovern fight and the Gans-Nelson fight at Goldfield. He was also there on the spot when the notorious hoodlum, John Dillinger, was shot and killed in Chicago.

Queries From Clients: Q. My husband, a traveling salesman, has been raving about Constance Bennett, whom he saw recently in a stage play in Chicago. Not only about her action but her marvelous figure. Is Constance older than her sister Joan? What are her measurements? A. Your husband's enthusiasm as to Miss Bennett seems to have gotten under your skin. Better start raving about some handsome actor and get even with him. Constance is two years older than Joan. Regret we haven't her complete measurements in our files. She is about five feet four, and weighs around 120 pounds. Has a nice figure but is no sweeter girl.

Mules and Men
Most of the lingerie bought for Christmas gifts is purchased by men. Most of the men buy black lacy lingerie. The reason the men buy this type of lingerie is because it makes them feel "wicked." Such is the statement made by a member of the lingerie manufacturing industry. I doubt that claim. Sounds like propaganda to me. Is there more

India Edwards Sees War 'Least Useless'

Chicago — (U.P.) — Mrs. India Edwards, who lost her husband in the first World War and a son in the second, says Gold Star mothers of the Korean war should ignore those "who would make you feel that your sons have been killed in a useless war."

She told the Democratic National Convention Tuesday night the Korean war has been the "least useless" in our history.

Mrs. Edwards, vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee, said neither Democrats nor Republicans can guarantee peace but that the Democrats can do more to attain this goal than the Republicans.

Houston, Tex. — (U.P.) — O. H. Dodgen awoke and found his leg on the floor. That couldn't have been right — he had left it on a chair. He investigated and reported to police that burglars apparently crawled into his hotel room, knocked his artificial leg on the floor and stole $35 from a wallet.

CAMPUS KILLER — Self-styled "genius" and former Columbia University student Bayard Peakes, 29 (above), after he was taken into custody in Boston. Peakes confessed he murdered Eileen Fahey, 18, because "I was mad at Columbia" and she was "the first person I ran into."

money in black lingerie than that of other colors? The information in the hands of our Horses & Women Department, based on careful questioning, is that the majority of women prefer white lingerie to black.

Naming Baby

Queen Mary of England was christened Victoria Mary Augusta Louise Olga Pauline Claudine Agnes. If your next offspring is a girl, might be a good idea to give her nine or ten names. Then when she grows older she can use the name she likes best.

Best Performance

Merle Oberon's best performance was as George Sand in "A Song to Remember." I saw that film again last night. It is one of my favorites. Of course, it doesn't tell the whole story of the affair between George Sand and Chopin. After George broke with the composer, she described him as "a high flown consumptive and an exasperating nuisance."

How Oregon Milk Control holds retail prices up!

Under the present Oregon Milk Control Law the minimum retail price of the milk your child drinks is fixed by the Milk Administration. It is unlawful to sell milk below that fixed price.

The Milk Administrator prohibits passing on to you any savings from efficiency in wholesale distribution. Lower cash-and-carry store prices are also forbidden.

Thus many parents cannot afford all the milk their growing children need.

What Safeway Stands For

Safeway believes that the producer and consumer are harmed by milk regulations which fix prices of milk beyond the producer level. For example, price fixing at the retail level tends to reduce competition, create monopolies, and discourage modern economies in processing, packaging, and retailing milk. As a result the price to the consumer is often higher than necessary resulting in reduced purchases, smaller consumption and disastrous milk surpluses.

When consumers pay cash for milk and carry it home from the store, they save the cost of home delivery and credit. Safeway believes the consumer is entitled to that saving.

It is Safeway policy neither to use milk as a "loss leader" nor to attempt to make an unwarranted profit on its sale.

The questions and answers below show some other ways in which Oregon Milk Control affects YOU.

Q. Does Milk Control discourage competitive distribution of milk?

A. YES. No one can enter the milk business if the Administrator says such new competition might disturb existing distributors.

Q. Does Milk Control limit the richness of milk?

A. YES. The richness (butterfat content) of milk sold in each price range is limited by the rulings of the Milk Administrator.

Q. Does the Oregon Milk Control Law regulate sanitary conditions?

A. NO. It has absolutely nothing to do with the sanitation, health inspection, cleanliness, or the purity of milk.

Q. Does Milk Control hold prices up?

A. YES. That is the purpose for which the law was designed. It sets floor prices, not ceiling prices.

Q. Does Milk Control allow you a lower price when you carry milk home yourself?

A. NO. You pay the higher costs of door-to-door delivery whether you use this service or not.

Q. Does Milk Control limit the supply of Grade A milk?

A. YES. To sell Grade A milk for your use a farmer must first get permission from the Administrator. If he gets permission (and many do not), he is given a quota. If he produces more he must often sell the surplus at a lower price for cheese or other factory uses.
