

Demo, GOP Political Platform Compared

Chicago — (U.P.) — A comparison of main planks in the 1952 Democratic and Republican platforms:

FOREIGN POLICY

Democratic — Peace with honor is our goal, and can be attained if post war Democratic policies are continued. We have hurled back the Reds from South Korea, showing the Communists that the United Nations will resist aggression. The United States can't face aggressors alone, so it will support Allies around the world. Collective security is our goal in the Pacific as well as in Europe. Aid to Formosa will be continued.

Republican — Democrats lost the peace, fumbled and vacillated in a futile attempt to contain communism. They invited war in Korea then refused to fight it to win. The GOP will fire diplomats who engineered our present plight, will wage peace and win it; will support collective security, but limit foreign aid; will give Asia equal priority with Europe, and won't forget the Americas either.

NATIONAL DEFENSE

Democratic — Pledges continued development of balanced defense forces, land, sea and air; reject "defeatist" view that we can't afford all the defense necessary for security.

Republican — Arms program is "disgracefully lagging." Russia may not wait. GOP will develop defense force "in being, as distinguished from paper plans." Adequate air power will be built as fast as possible.

CORRUPTION

Democratic — Party commends congressional disclosures, "under vigorous Democratic leadership," of derelictions in public service, and pledges to continue investigations as needed. Slander and defamation of character won't be tolerated.

Republican — Administration record of "fraud, bribery, graft, favoritism has . . . shocked and sickened the people." GOP will end corruption, oust crooks and grafters, restore honest government.

CIVIL RIGHTS

Democratic — Party favors

federal legislation to guarantee all, regardless of race, creed or origin, equal right to jobs, personal security, the ballot. Also urges action to end Senate filibuster "after reasonable debate."

Republican — GOP believes states carry main responsibility in maintenance of civil rights, but pledges federal action against lynching, poll taxes, and segregation in national capital. It will enact law "to further just and equitable treatment in the area of discriminatory employment practices," but this won't apply where states and such practices on their own.

COMMUNISM

Democratic — Administration has been alert to dangers of disloyalty in government service, has exposed and punished those guilty. President's loyalty program "has served effectively to prevent infiltration by subversive elements and to protect honest and loyal public servants against unfounded and malicious attacks."

Republican — Administration has appeased Communism at home and abroad. Reds have infiltrated government, at cost of lives, dollars, and atomic secrets. There are no Communists in GOP. A Republican president will overhaul loyalty program, hire only those of "unquestioned loyalty."

PRICE, WAGE CONTROLS

Democratic — Party promises to remove controls when conditions allow, but will retain them "so long as the emergency requires them." Democrats will try to redress injury done white collar and fixed-income families by "weakening" amendments Republicans in Congress forced into anti-inflation laws.

Republican — Democrats have used controls to bolster party power, not control inflation. Republicans will end "injurious" price and wage curbs and halt "senseless" use of other restrictions on business. GOP will fight inflation by encouraging full production. Further inflation "must be and can be prevented."

RENT CONTROL

Democratic — Party will continue rent curbs in critical defense areas "and in the many other localities still suffering from a substantial shortage of adequate housing at reasonable prices."

Republican — Rent controls will be ended except where defense production has produced a "critical" housing shortage.

TAXES AND SPENDING

Democratic — Party rejects "reckless promises" to cut taxes, but favors reduction, especially for low income groups, "as rapidly as defense requirements permit." Nation can't escape bill for security, but spending will be kept to lowest practical level. Tax loopholes will be closed.

Party opposes general federal sales tax.

Republican — GOP goal is balanced budget, reduced debt, economy in government, cut in taxes. Taxes will be collected impartially and without political interference.

LABOR

Democratic — Party "strongly advocates" repeal of Taft-Hartley law, which interferes with collective bargaining and tips scale in favor of management. Will work for legislation to deal with national emergency strikes.

Republican — GOP favors retention of Taft-Hartley, with such amendments as experience proves necessary. The party condemns President Truman's seizure of industry to force settlement of labor disputes.

AGRICULTURE

Democratic — Present farm programs must be retained and improved. Party rejects "sliding scale" price supports and favors supporting basic crops at not less than 80 per cent of parity. It advocates "practical methods" to extend price supports to other storables and to perishable commodities.

Republicans — GOP wants to help farmer, not socialize him. It pledges a flexible support program aimed at "full parity prices for all farm products in the market place." It favors commodity loans on non-perishables and locally-controlled marketing agreements on perishables. It opposes crop limitations.

Bids on Ashland's School Work Called

Ashland—Bids on Ashland's $685,000 school building program will be opened August 22, according to Superintendent Leeland Linn.

Bids are expected from nearly all of the state's largest building contractors. The program will be one of the largest school building projects in the state.

The opening meeting will be held in the Briscoe school library, as a large number of contractors and subcontractors is expected. Linn said construction work will begin almost immediately after the opening if there is a satisfactory bid.

The building program, to be financed by a voter-approved $185,000 bond issue, includes additions at three Ashland schools. Most extensive construction will be at the senior high school, where a two-story wing and a physical education building will be built. There will also be classrooms added at Walker and Bellview schools.

3 More Candidates Now In Ashland City Council Race

Ashland—Three more candidates for city council posts have been announced in Ashland. There are now five aspirants for the three empty council positions. Mrs. Kenneth Perrine, whose petitions are already filed, is the first woman to seek a council position since 1922. The other new candidates are Morton Newton and R. L. Lindner. Petitions are now being circulated for both of them.

Mrs. Perrine has been proprietor of Perrine Industrial Electricians since the death of her husband two years ago.

Announces Tuesday

Newton announced his candidacy Tuesday. He is president of Fridger Grocery company and a member of the city planning commission. He came to Ashland in 1888, attended local schools and graduated from Southern Oregon college in 1900.

Lindner is a shop foreman at the Ashland Daily Tidings. He has worked there since he moved to Ashland 25 years ago.

Petitions for another candidate have been readied for circulation, but the person has not yet announced his candidacy. Earlier announced in the council race were Steve Laninovich and Kenneth H. Jones.

The people do not vote directly for Presidential candidates. They vote for electors, the majority of whom elect the president.

A bachelor who has remained single because he disliked the idea of matrimony is a rarity. Practically all bachelors over 40 have either had an unlucky love affair or couldn't get the kind of girl they wanted to marry them. The United States has had only one bachelor president. That was Buchanan. He fell in love with a beautiful and wealthy Lancaster, Pa., girl named Anne Coleman. They became engaged. Then Anne broke the engagement. From that blow Buchanan never recovered and so remained a bachelor all his life.

Backward Look.

Inspired by dean of drama critics George Jean Nathan's statement that the current Broadway theatrical season is the "worst in forty-five years," I checked back in the files to see what was wrong with the season of 1907. That was the year "The Merry Widow," starring Ethel Jackson and Donald Brian made its bow. Also the year Ziegfeld produced his first "Follies," starring Anna Held. "The Warrens of Virginia," produced by David Belasco was on the boards. Mary Pickford was in that. Other attractions of forty-five years ago were Mabel Taliaferro in "Polly of the Circus," John Drew and Billie Burke in "My Wife," Maclyn Arbuckle in "The Round-Up," Jack Barrymore in "The Boys of Company B," May Robson in "The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary," Marie Doro in "The Morals of Marcus," Nazimova in Ibsen's "A Dolls House," Ellen Terry in Shaw's "Captain Brassbound's Conversion," and Cecil Lean in "The Time, The Place and The Girl." Many young old timers will undoubtedly feel Mr. Nathan has done the season of 1907 an injustice in comparing it with the current seasons pathetic assemblage of low grade dramas.

Asking.

Queries from clients. Q. Who wrote the song titled "Slow Boat to China"? A. Frank Loesser of New York City wrote that one. Frank also wrote "Praise the Lord and Pass the Ammunition," "They're Either Too Young or Too Old," and "Baby, It's Cold Outside." Q. Discussing the speed of the ocean liner the United States I said the Italian ship, Rex, was once the fastest on the trans-Atlantic routes. Right? A. Quite right, sir. That was in 1932. Then the French S. S. Normandie broke the record of the Rex.
