Judy Simpson, Nine, Gets Radio License

Martha Ruth (Judy) Simpson, nine-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Simpson, 801 King street, Saturday received a license as a radiotelephone (restricted) operator. She is thought to be one of the youngest, if not the youngest, licensed radio operators in the nation.

Judy, whose ninth birthday was only a few days ago, was licensed so she can help her mother and father, and her older brother, Ferris, monitor and operate the radio-telephone network of the Southern Oregon Conservation and Tree Farm association, of which her father is secretary-manager. The radio network has its major land station in Simpson's downtown office, but a remote control station is located in the Simpson's residence, to offer 24-hour service.

Ferris, who received his license when he was 11 years old, at that time was thought to be the youngest such operator, but Judy has now topped his record.

30 Members Attend 4-H Cattle Club Tour

About 30 members attended a recent Rogue River Jersey Cattle club tour which inspected various members' work, according to R. H. Cate Jr., county agent in 4-H work.

Visits were made at the homes of members who bought the club's calf selection for March in order to observe the progress of the calves and to encourage the members. Visits were made at the homes of Carole Nelson, Eagle Point; Peggy George and John Foley, both of Medford; and Donald Sommers, Talent.

Delbert Mongold, president of the club, reported that the boys and girls were doing a "very good job in training the calves."

Your Health and Its Care

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Readers should address inquiries to: William Brady, 265 El Camino, Beverly Hills, Cal.

YOUTH, OLD AGE AND LIME

Up to date textbooks of physiology describe the functions of calcium (lime) as follows:

Dr. Brady

1. Essential for ossification of bone and the enamel of the teeth, and for development of sound and regular or even teeth.
2. regulates excitability of nerves.
3. Necessary for vigorous contraction of heart muscle.
4. Necessary for clotting of blood.
5. Controls permeability of capillaries.

How come so many Americans are susceptible to or subject to these familiar complaints which, as I believe, are the manifestations of calcium deficiency?

The answer is as simple as rolling off a log. Most Americans, especially growing children and adolescents, do not consume enough milk—whole milk, skim milk, separator milk, dry whole milk powder or skim milk powder, buttermilk, sour milk, Bulgarian milk, Acidophilus milk, yoghurt, clabbered or curdled milk, whey, cottage cheese and every other kind of cheese. Milk and milk products constitute the best food source of calcium, to say nothing of other essentials of good nutrition. The minimum daily requirement of milk, or its equivalent in the milk products mentioned, for man, woman or growing child, is 1½ pints, three glasses, if the individual is to enjoy good nutrition and good health.

From time to time, in the past ten years, now this and now that "scientific investigator" or "laboratory expert" has discovered that "too much" vitamin D may cause deposits of calcium in various tissues and organs, the blood vessels, the kidneys, the lungs, for example.

Actual instances of such happening in human beings, substantiated by qualified medical examination, are so rare that one questions the motive for all the hullabaloo. There is no case on record in which any serious untoward effect has been produced by feeding infant or adult less than 5000 units of vitamin D daily over an indefinite period of time.

In advanced senility deposits of calcium (lime) in the walls of the arteries are commonly found. Whatever the old timers thought about this, no one today ascribes the hardening of the arteries (arteriosclerosis) of old age to this calcification. Physicians and pathologists today regard it as a consequence of degeneration of the arterial wall—nature being no longer able to replace damaged or dead cells with new cells lays down fibrous, scar, non-functioning tissue or deposits calcium salts to repair the damage.

The degeneration of the arterial wall is part and parcel of premature aging, growing old, decline, dying. Everybody's doing it. In the natural course of life we are born, we grow and develop until we reach the peak, full maturity, and immediately we begin to decline, to degenerate, to die.

We like to deceive ourselves that we are as young and fit at fifty, let us say, as we were at thirty-five. But the truth is that most of us begin to decline, degenerate or die at thirty-five or thereabouts.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

Restless Legs

Troubled by twitching and jerking of legs when I am trying to find a position to sleep. Doctors say it is muscular fatigue from being on my feet all day . . (Mrs. S. A. E.)

Answer—It would help you considerably if you will lie on your back for a few moments and ride an imaginary bicycle upside down, three or four times in the day. This is especially good for persons with varicose veins. Perhaps a nitroglycerin tablet (1/200th grain) dissolved under your tongue after you get into bed, would relieve the restlessness of legs—you'll have to ask your doctor for nitroglycerin tablets.
