

Tree Farm Program's 10th Anniversary To Be Observed Saturday

Klamath Falls — (U.P.) — Residents of this bustling southern Oregon city, the first major pine lumber producing center in the state, will be celebrating a birthday party Saturday for a 10-year-old.

The Free Farm program of the 12-state Western Pine region is the little fellow whose birthday it is.

Actually, he's not very small—for he now spreads over more than 5,000,000 acres of privately-owned western pine timber. But he was born just a decade ago on Weyerhaeuser Timber Company lands west of here. He was known then as simply Tree Farm No. 1 and he weighed in at 500,000 acres.

374 Farms in Program
Altogether there are now 374 farms in the Western Pine Tree Farm program and, with other programs in other areas, they're known as the conservation project of the American forest products industry.

Saturday's party is scheduled for 10:30 a.m. (PDT) just off highway 66, about 4½ miles west of Keno and will include talks by Sen. Guy Cordon, R-Ore., A. J. Glassow of Bend, general manager of the Brooks-Scanlon Lumber company, and William H. Steiwer, Fossil, a rancher-tree farmer and president of the National Wood Growers association.

Others present will include Walter S. Johnson, San Francisco, head of the American Forest Products Corporation, and J. P. Weyerhaeuser Jr., Tacoma, Wash., president of Weyerhaeuser.

Public Invited
John Houston, Klamath Falls businessman and former mayor, will be master of ceremonies. He was one of the speakers at the original dedication of the Weyerhaeuser Tree Farm.

Johnson issued a special invitation to the public to attend. "It will be a splendid opportunity," he said, "for all those who are interested in their community's welfare to see for themselves how private industrial forestry is working to maintain a stabilized industry that will mean continuous lumber production, and continuous payrolls, in the future."

Hood River Paper Has Doors Locked By Revenue Bureau

Hood River — (U.P.) — The Hood River Daily Sun suspended publication after Bureau of Internal Revenue agents locked up the plant, but Publisher John H. Travis said Friday he hoped to resume publication "within a few days."

The Bureau of Internal Revenue impounded the afternoon newspaper's plant Tuesday night for failure to pay social security and withholding taxes, Travis said.

Cost Too Much
"The excessive cost of establishing a daily newspaper was too much for us," Travis said. "We lost money for 26 consecutive months, but have been operating in the black for the past year. It was the initial cost that finally licked us."

Travis said he was endeavoring to obtain money to satisfy the bureau's claims and to re-finance his publishing company.

Believed Over Hump
"Mrs. Travis and I feel that we are over the hump and if it is possible to secure additional financing, we will resume publishing the Sun within a few days," he said.

The Sun was launched as an afternoon daily March 14, 1949. Travis said the Sun is the only daily newspaper established and maintained in operation for more than one year in Oregon since 1919.

JAPAN TO HAVE TV
Tokyo — (U.P.) — Production of 3,000 television sets, scheduled for September, is expected to speed the advent of television broadcasting in Japan. Six stations already have applied for licenses.

The Grange

Butte Falls Grange
Butte Falls Grange met in regular session with past master Earl Remson replacing Master Ward Sybouts. Applications for two new members were read. Discussion was held on the booth the Grange will have at the Labor Day Festival. The Grange decided not to sponsor a "queen". H.E.C. Chairman Frieda Moore gave a short report on the club.

Next meeting will be at the home of Sister Minnie Green. All members are urged to attend. There will be a potluck dinner at 12:30 p.m.

Next Grange meeting comes on Labor day, so the executive committee may decide to change the date. Members will be notified of the change.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Alice Harris, and Mr. and Mrs. John Zimmerlee.
