Around Hollywood

By ALINE MOSBY
United Press Correspondent

Hollywood (U.P.)—It's the Texas oil millionaires—not the movie stars—who are the big spenders in Movietown today.

The film folk stick home by their swimming pools and save their pennies to pay their whopping income taxes to Uncle Sam.

But a new breed of playboy has taken their places. The "oilionaires" don't have such high taxes. So they're pouring into town to keep the cash registers busy in the glittering night clubs and expensive shops of the Plaster City.

Ciro's Manager Herman Hover says most of the business at his plushy nightspot comes from well-heeled businessmen these days, and most of them with a Texas drawl. You see a new crowd in the niteries now, with just a sprinkle of movie stars. Tailors Get Business

Even the custom tailors of Beverly Hills say they turn out their $400 sport jackets for Texas oilmen. Actors say they can't afford them any more.

One observer of this trend is

Your Health and Its Care

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.
Readers should address inquiries to: William Brady,
265 El Camino, Beverly Hills, Cal.

I SHOULD HATE MYSELF?

Every doctor I have known, writes a reader of uncertain gender, warns us to keep warm in chilly weather. You say people who wear overcoats in cold weather are sissies. Where is the sense in this?

Is the sense in it that the doctor found the trouble was more serious than the patient had assumed, but caught it in time to save the man's life.

A registered nurse (R. N.) writes from Wisconsin:

"I am impressed not so much by what you say as how you say it. People are not 'stupid,' and calling them so doesn't sound well coming from one who purports to be a Doctor. It is anything but professional. As far as sympathy is concerned, there may come a day when you would like to receive a little yourself."

Not by mail or in print, I hope. What you call sympathy, in print, is pretty shoddy stuff.

The head of a special school writes from California:

"We are happy to have your column back with us and appreciate your informal and helpful attitude, so unlike the alarming, technical (if at all informative) information found in some medical columns."

Thank you, Ma'am, but may I not explain that this column is a HEALTH column, and I shy away from medical stuff as much as possible. Whenever it seems at all feasible I am happy to suggest something which I think may be helpful—but only by personal letter.

I was kicked out of a newspaper in the south because a V I P became alarmed by something he saw in my column—huronly one with a tax advantage these days, so everybody's getting into it.

Diversified Interests

"When I first arrived in Hollywood as a youngster I played around like they're doing. I got over that. I have diversified interests now."

Wrather is one of the few Texas oilmen who comes to Hollywood to work. He owns a television station, he produces movies, and he's built the swank O'Horizon resort hotel in Palm Springs and the Twin Lakes Lodge in Las Vegas.

"Some guys are out here to play around," says Wrather. "But I don't have much time for the night life. I have to keep in touch with my oil interest by phone. My phone bill last month was $1,600."

MOO-O-OS and MUSINGS

We recently went up on Aloha Street to interview a man named Bill Tucker who can reportedly see in the dark just like a cat.

After conducting exhaustive tests, we came to a disappointing conclusion.

Tucker's no cat. (Any similarity to any type of snow vehicle living or dead is purely coincidental).

"I enjoy your good horse sense so much. I insist that my pupils read your column to get rid of the fallacies and fishwife notions on which they and their parents have apparently been raised."

This pleases me no end. At the same time it puzzles me, for only a stickler or so of my column gets into print most days in the writer's city. Most of my good horse sense seems to be scrapped in that community because there isn't room for it, or maybe some big shot on the paper hates my—or maybe I should hate myself at least enough to keep all my readers happy. To do that I need only tell 'em nothing they do not already know or believe is so. The
