From Camp White

By SID HOLLINGSWORTH
The fourth annual watermelon bust of the Veterans Administration Volunteer Services of Camp White was held amid frolic and entertainment at Tou Velle State park Sunday afternoon.

A total of 1200 pounds of watermelon was consumed by approximately 300 who attended the gala gathering. There were 240 members on hand, with representatives of 26 organizations and domiciliary officials, including Manager Paul A. Hutton, doing the honors.

Marvin Kahn, special services chief, was master of ceremonies and Ty Teorey, Al Birman and John Berry were "general managers." Father John Cumiskey delivered an informal invocation. He also announced his initiation at the ceremony and said he finds such gatherings in the open at this season of the year a mighty good thing.

It was an ideal day for a picnic, and notwithstanding an element of vocal competition furnished by the Democratic party testimonial for Judge TouVelle across the road, a friendly spirit was manifest at both events. At the close of the watermelon feast a quartet of musicians, known professionally as Three Notes and Dad, came over from the Democratic "party" and regaled the veterans with a repertoire of songs.

The program included harmonica solos by Fred Howe and Gene Crowder, songs by Gene, and accordion and guitar numbers by GI Joe Greco and William Lowes. Tommy Thompson did a piece of verse which was read by Marvin Kahn. The two octogenarians, and over, Messrs. von Needa and McIntyre, were presented and Dave von Needa told a tall story which was interrupted in the most exciting part when the power went off. Someone raced up to the meter and dropped in another dime so that he could resume over the mike.

Cochairman Paul Olsen, of the Trench Rats and Clyde Jessup of Grants Pass VFW Post, in charge of arrangements, animated the party with conversation and their talks over the microphone, and cigarettes were distributed as a parting gesture.

Having passed all tests and conditions, Domiciliary Officer Ruffin, Contact Officer Black and Recreation Officer Girard took guns and ammunition and headed Friday for the Silver Lake country, east of Klamath Falls, to try their luck at bringing home a pronghorn antelope piece.

The season opened the 16th but there were conditions such as drawing for permits and assurances that they didn't have last year. They have five days and if they don't make the mistake of bagging a doe instead of a buck they will be back shortly.

Mrs. Enid L. Brown, secretary to the manager, has returned from a trip to Montana where she visited her brother George McDonald and an aunt, Elizabeth Hamilton, at Phillipsburg. She returned to Camp White with Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Behan who were driving back to Los Angeles.

TIRED POSTMAN—Roman Kortes, 50-year-old Detroit postman who seldom rang twice, or even once, nervously smokes a cigaret as postal inspectors (background) examine some of the estimated 15,000 pieces of undelivered mail found in his basement. "I got tired of trying to deliver it all," explained Kortes.

School Officials Could Be Criminally Liable

Lincoln, Neb. —(U.P.)— Attorney General C. S. Beck has ruled that school officials who lock or obstruct exits to school buildings would be criminally liable if injuries or deaths were caused by fire or panic. Beck made the ruling after State Fire Marshall E. C. Iverson said some schools lock or block the exits during school hours or athletic events.
