New Building To Be Architectural Sight

Kansas City, Mo. — (U.P.) — A multi-million-dollar, eight-story Kansas City building not only will have its largest floor on top and street-level entrances for each floor, but it also will house a functional zoo and a greenhouse.

The structure to be built for Hallmark, greeting cards manufacturers, promises to be one of the leading architectural sights in the midwest. Among its attractions will be a gallery for original paintings.

The $6,000,000 building will follow the contour of a rocky plateau near the downtown area. The site had been ignored by builders in spite of its excellent location until Joyce C. Hall incorporated the rugged terrain into his plans.

The top floor will overlay the entire mound, making it the largest in the building with 200,000 square feet of floor space. Lower floors decrease in floor space down to the ground floor which will have but 10,000 square feet.

The zoo will be located on the eighth floor. It will house ducks, chickens, rabbits, puppies, kittens, and numerous other small animals and birds that frequently appear on greeting cards.

Builders hope to complete the structure by Jan. 1, 1955.

The Vancouver Capilano picked up ground on the Western International league leaders last night by defeating second place Salem 6-1 and 3-1 in their double-header.

Salem dropped four games behind league-leading Spokane, while Vancouver came up within one half game of the Senators. First baseman Gene Petralli led the Capilano plate attack with two singles and a double in four times at bat.

Richards Rated Tops By Managers

New York — (U.P.) — Paul Richards may not win a pennant with the Chicago White Sox this year but he is winning repeated praise from his fellow pilots today as "the smartest manager in the majors."

Even such National League skipper as Chuck Dressen, Leo Durocher and Rogers Hornsby are paying tribute to Richards' managerial genius while a poll of American League managers reveals that he is rated at the top.

"Richards would be a success at anything he undertook," points out Manager Marty Marion of the St. Louis Browns. "He's smart as a whip, he knows how to get the most out of his material and he always comes up with the unexpected."

Bucky Harris of Washington and Freddie Hutchinson of the Detroit Tigers also rate Richards highly.

When Casey Stengel of the Yankees was asked point blank whether he thought Richards was the smartest manager in the majors, he grinningly replied:

"That would be a great thing for me to say, now wouldn't it? But I will say this much. He's a real smart cookie and you know you've been in a ball game every time you play against him."
