Few Co-Eds Not Afraid of Snakes

Wach, Tex. — (U.P.)—A Baylor University psychology student reports that only one out of every 20 Baylor co-eds isn't afraid of snakes.

Robert D. Wickham of Waco questioned some 700 girls about their fears for his thesis for an M. A. degree.

He said 95 per cent of the Baylor women cringe at the sound of the word "snake," and are prone to shriek when they see one.

Bulking various fears together, Wickham said the assorted problems of courtship and marriage led to more anxiety than any other cause. Some 40 per cent of the co-eds feared being old maids, and 47 per cent were scared they wouldn't find the husband best suited to them.

Others feared they wouldn't be able to have children and some said they feared childbirth.

Other fears involved robbers and prowlers, death of parents and other loved ones, spiders, automobile wrecks, war, polio, Communism, reckless driving and being burned.

Many expressed a "fear of God," but Wickham said the oddest phobia was a fear of "assisting in operations at a dog and cat hospital."

The findings, he said, were similar in many respects to a similar survey made in 1930 at the Alabama College for Women. But Wickham said that survey didn't reveal much fear of polio or Communism, both dominant fears for 1953's college women.

Last year's visitors to national forests included 8,027,000 picnickers; 5,931,000 anglers; 2,948,900 hunters; 1,641,402 campers; 974,661 swimmers and 815,639 hikers and horseback riders.
