

National Forest Receipts Reach Nearly $9,500,000

Portland—(U.P.)—An all-time high of nearly $9,500,000 has been paid Oregon and Washington for their share of national forest receipts for the fiscal year ended June 30, according to Regional Forester J. Herbert Stone.

Oregon received $6,029,382 and Washington $3,434,618. The payments represent 25 per cent of receipts from timber sales, grazing permits, land use permits and other national forest uses. The money is earmarked for benefit of public schools and roads within the counties in which national forest land is situated.

Oregon and Washington payments combined total slightly more than half the total returns to the 40 states and two territories in which national forests are located, Stone said.

In Salem, the secretary of state's office announced apportionment of the money by counties, including: Jackson, $173,880; Josephine, $73,214; Klamath, $368,148.

Man Hospitalized After Injury Found

Keith Elwood Hudspeth, 130 West Main street, is confined to Sacred Heart hospital with a badly fractured hip, according to hospital city police reports.

City police said that Hudspeth, lying on the ground at Sixth st. and the Southern Pacific tracks about 9:30 p.m. Wednesday, was booked on a drunkenness charge and placed in jail overnight.

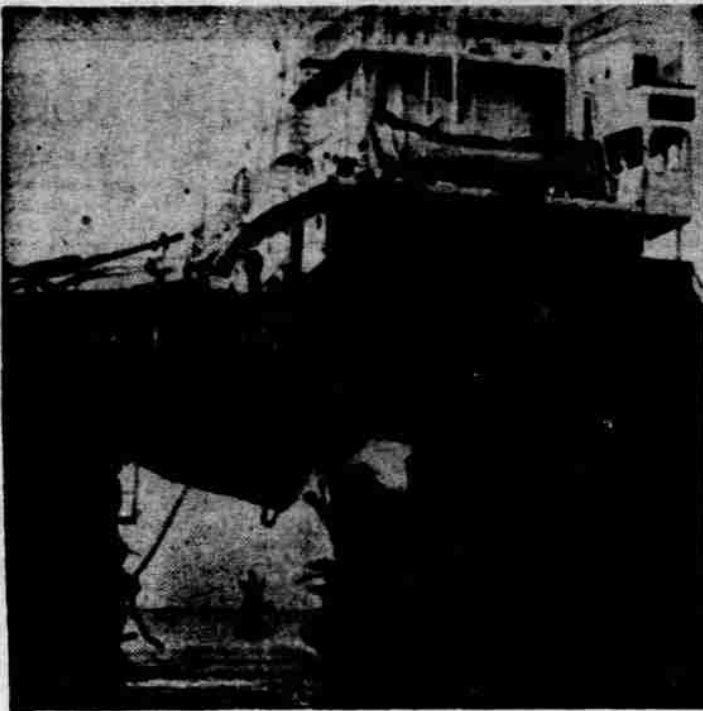

Officers said that Hudspeth had to be supported when brought to the station and said, "Well I'm crippled," indicating then that he had a permanent disability. He told an officer yesterday that "I can't get up." Police called for a doctor who ordered X-rays to be taken and Hudspeth was taken to Sacred Heart hospital by ambulance.

Police said Hudspeth told them that "I fell yesterday."

Around Hollywood

By ALINE MOSBY United Press Correspondent

Hollywood—(U.P.)—June Haver has quit her convent but Nancy Valentine, another ex-movie beauty, said today she is still happy with her vows to stay in a Yogi seminary. Nancy once was a luscious blonde actress who rhumbaed in Mocambo and Ciro's and Alone Mosby, a secretly wed to the Maharajah of Cooch Behar.

Today she is a quiet-voiced girl with natural brown hair who works in obscurity at the world headquarters for the self-realization fellowship in downtown Los Angeles, far from the glittering lights of movietown. She lives at a Yogi seminary.

"Very Happy" "I'm sorry to hear June left the convent," Miss Valentine said. "I think I'll write her a little note. I didn't know she had ill health."

"As for me, I am very happy here. I am in Yogi for life." She sold her furs and gems and entered the faith, taking its vows of chastity for life, nearly a year ago.

"I am called a renunciate," she said. "It's the same thing as a postulate at a convent. After seven years I will be called a sister."

Rises Early "Our faith is a combination of the Eastern and Western religions. I will serve God either by traveling around the world to give lectures or, perhaps, by working here in the office. God will lead me to the particular place."

Nancy, too, has to rise with the birds at 4 a. m. to begin her long day of prayer, meditation, spiritual training and work. But her health can stand it, she said.

"When I work for God He gives me energy," she smiled. Another movie beauty who gave up her career to follow God was brunette Colleen Townsend. She is still devoted to her religious life. Her husband, Louis Evans Jr., is studying for the ministry at a university in Scotland.

Damage estimated ranged between $150,000 and $200,000. Jack L. Dempsey, who heard
