MAKING A NEW LIFE — Edmund Clarke Jr., 8, and Jeanne Lawrence, 7, go for a stroll with newly acquired limbs. For Eddie it is not a new experience, he has had four artificial legs since he was injured in an automobile accident three years ago. But for Jeanne, her artificial arm and leg are only two months old. Jeanne was born with a deformed right arm and leg. Both children, whose fathers are Navy men, were fitted with their limbs at the U.S. Naval hospital in Oakland, Calif.

Friendly Gesture To Meter Violators Wins City Friends

Wichita Falls, Tex. — (U.P.)— This city is finding out that a system it has worked out for parking meter violators is paying off.

Letters have come to the city from states throughout the nation congratulating city officials for their successful method, which is handled by girl public relations officers.

The girls, who inaugurated the idea three months ago, write parking meter tickets and leave them on the windshields of overparked automobiles, just like police officers do all over the nation.

But enclosed in the envelope-ticket is a card to be filled out by the owner, if he or she has an out-of-state or out-of-country license. This card exempts such owners from the $1 fine. A place is designated on the card for remarks as well as name and address.

Complimentary Remarks

City officials say that they've already received more than 500 of the cards bearing complimentary remarks.

The driver who probably was farthest from home was a Londoner. He wrote on his card: "So sorry this happened. When you are in our city, you can park free on one of our meters."

A man in Mineral Wells, Tex., wrote: "I like your attitude, put this $1 in the police relief fund."

The system was invented by City Manager H. A. Thomason.

"Actually the city isn't losing any parking meter revenue from this gesture, since very few out-of-city parking tickets are ever paid anyway," he said. "And it is a friendly gesture that is winning the city friends."

The most personal comment received thus far was from a Granite, Okla., man who asked for the phone number of the girl who wrote his ticket.

Nine sections of New Mexico once had active volcanoes and U.S. highways 66 and 380 both cross large lava flow deposits left there years ago.
