

A Nichol's Worth of . . . Comment On This and That

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Feature Writer

Washington — (U.P.) — What's new in Washington:

During its current special session, the Senate recesses every day for lunch, something it doesn't do during ordinary sessions.

The Senate's own private restaurant isn't staffed to handle 96 hungry senators all at once and the Harman Nichols I a w m a k e s have found themselves standing in line for a bowl of bean soup and a ham on rye. Lately, a lot of the senators have concluded that it is easier to go to one of the regular commercial restaurants that line the streets around the Capitol. The bean soup isn't as good, and a senator doesn't rate any faster service than a tourist from Waukegan, but a martini is available if the hot debate has whetted a senatorial thirst.

The American Automobile association gets some interesting intelligence from Pennsylvania. It seems that at Merion, Pa., the town that bluegrass made famous, Mrs. Jane Miller complained to police that a truck was parked without permission in her garden.

"Mine is a flower garden," she told the police officer who arrived for investigation. "It is not a truck garden. Get that truck out of here."

It was gotten out.

A new kind of chain letter is being circulated around the Pentagon and elsewhere here. It is, with tongue in the cheek, designed to bring relief and happiness to "tired old husbands." There is no money involved. No trouble with the post office. The letter says: Simply send a copy of this letter to five of your close friends who are equally tired. Put your name at the bottom of the list and then bundle up your wife and ship her to the man whose name appears at the top of the list. When your name bobs up at the top of the list you may receive as many as 16 to 178 women. That's a horrible thought. But more awful, according to Pentagon wits, the general who got his own wife back. The chain was there by broken.

The British Information Service here is collecting some new anecdotes about Sir Winston Churchill in connection with the Prime Minister's 80th birthday. One concerns a civil servant who was asked by a friend if Churchill ever spoke to him.

The servant puffed up like a poisoned pup and said, "Yes, once."

What did he say?

"He said to shut that infernal door. It was a moment I will never forget."

Rose Marie Legler Named County 4-H Member of Month

Rose Marie Legler, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Legler, route 2, box 199, Central Point, has been named Jackson county's outstanding 4-H Club member for the month of November.

Starting her 10th year in 4-H, Miss Legler has been active with a total of 27 projects in agriculture and home economics. Rabbits and swine have been her major projects, with additional time spent on sewing, health, dairy, poultry and the new junior leadership program.

She now owns a cow, a calf, ten does and some chickens which she keeps on her parent's 30-acre mixed dairy and swine farm at Central Point.

Active in Work

Miss Legler has been active in her community 4-H clubs, being president, secretary, and reporter of different project clubs, and vice-president of the Central Point Community club. She is also a member of the Jackson County 4-H Council and has served as radio-TV chairman this past year. This group has assisted in several TV programs, besides putting on a regular monthly radio program.

Numerous prizes have been won by Miss Legler at the Jackson County 4-H fair, with champion ribbons in her rabbit project in 1951 and 1952, her prized possession. She has won numerous other ribbons with her swine, dairy and poultry and was first and third in the senior showmanship classes this year. Her work at county fair won trips for her to State Fair in judging and demonstrations in 1952.

To Summer Schools

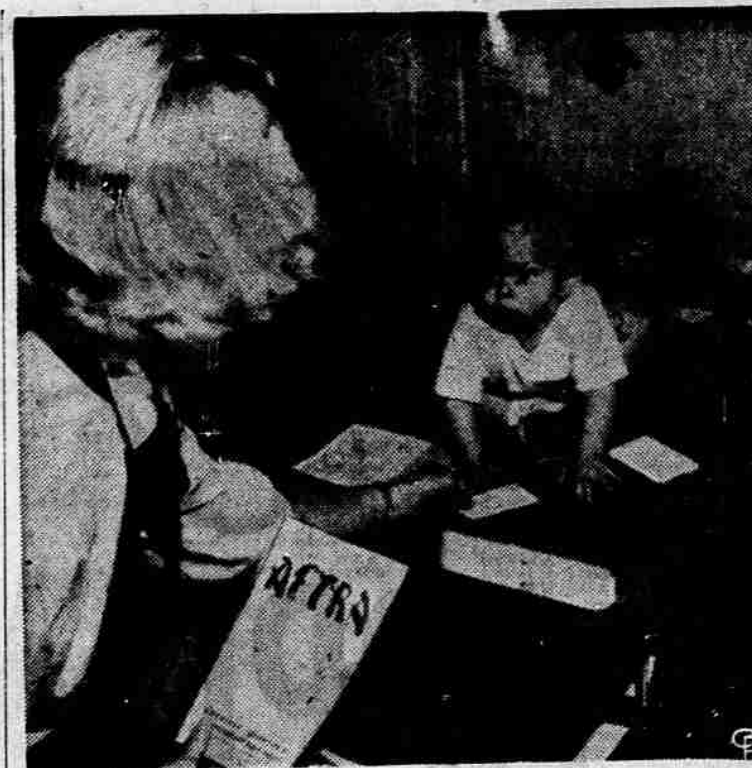

Rose Marie has been a delegate to 4-H summer school at Corvallis five different years and this year was MC on one of the radio broadcasts of station KOAC. She also served as a camp counselor at the 1954 4-H summer camp.

Her school activities are many and varied. She is a member of the Photo club, annual staff, paper staff and Girls' league and the Future Homemakers' of America. She is reporter of the FHA and attended the district conference at Lakeview in 1953 and at Crater high in 1954.

A brother, Gary, 15, has completed seven years of 4-H. A younger sister, Cathy, 6, and Tracy, 5, are future 4-Hers.

Rose Marie graduated from Crater high in 1954 and is now doing part graduate work there before she enters Southern Oregon college next fall. She will take liberal arts at SOC before transferring to Oregon State college to major in home economics and a possible career in the extension service.

BLM Invalidates 14 Placer Claims

The Portland land office of the Bureau of Land Management has declared 14 mining claims in the Rogue River National forest east of Highway 62 and south of Union Creek null and void, according to letters filed with the county clerk's office.

In each case the BLM informed the claim holders, seven in all, that notice of charges had been served and no response had been made within the time allowed. Therefore, "the mining claims are hereby declared null and void, and the case is closed," the letter said.

The placer claimholders and their locations were Paul Bulkin, three claims near Mill creek, four miles southeast of Union creek; Joe Cook, three claims, same general location; Mrs. Gosta Norback, four claims near Ginkgo creek, two miles east of Highway 62; C. M. Harter, one claim, same general location; C. D. Terwilliger, the Beverly No. 5 placer claim, two miles southeast of Union Creek; Betty Engle, the Beverly No. 8, same general area; and T. L. Park, one claim, near Mill creek.

LOW SPEED

Speed, Kan. — (U.P.) — City spending has slowed down in Speed. The city council reported it will not need to levy any taxes during the coming year because of an ample balance in the town treasury.

POLITENESS BACKFIRES

Portland, Me. — (U.P.) — Michael Pearce, 9, did a good deed and landed in the hospital. A woman passenger on the bus he was riding dropped one of her armful of packages. The boy leaned over to pick it up and was struck in the eye by a hanger protruding from another of the packages.

SHORT MOVE

Jonesboro, Ark. — (U.P.) — Marilyn Reng, 18, moved five blocks when she entered Arkansas State College here so she could be "just like any other freshman girl." Miss Reng moved into a dormitory. Her father, Dr. Carl R. Reng, is the college president.

FATAL EGG

Latham, N.Y. — (U.P.) — Laying a king-sized egg apparently was too much for a chicken owned by Edward Onyon, 10. He found his hen dead beside an egg that was described as being four inches long and six inches in circumference.

COOL CASH

Providence, R. I. — (U.P.) — Elizabeth Wetmore discovered her refrigerator wasn't burglar-proof. She told police someone stole $100 in cash she had been keeping cool along with her milk and fruit.
