Gold Hill

Gold Hill — A potluck Thanksgiving dinner will be sponsored by the Gold Hill Community Methodist church in the church dining room Wednesday, November 24 at 7:30 p.m. It is a community affair and everyone is invited. A program will follow the dinner.

Marvin Throne, Navy, air electrician 2nd class, is with an air squadron on the carrier Wasp. He has been somewhere in the Pacific for the past three months. Paul Throne received a phone call from Everett, Wash., connecting him by short wave, with Marvin in Japan. An interesting conversation ensued.

Marvin says Japan is a very pretty country and reminds him of Southern Oregon. Marvin was not permitted to say just where he was or where he would be going, but they did know he called from Japan. It was an exciting and pleasant experience for all concerned. Marvin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Throne, Rt. 1, Gold Hill.

The Colonial art exhibit is being shown in the Gold Hill school this week. The exhibit includes about 150 reproductions of the great masters works and is being shown for the purpose of assisting the general art appreciation program. The public is invited to view the exhibit tonight (Tuesday) between 7 and 9 o'clock. Visitors will also be welcome any time during the school day on Wednesday. No charge is being made.

There will be a Thanksgiving assembly program Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. Parents are welcome to attend.

On The Side

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

As a charter member of the Husbands Protective Association I would like to defend a celebrated married man. Note it said that Alfred Lunt never became a star until he married Lynn Fontanne. Lunt starred in the hit play "Clarence" three years before he married Miss Fontanne. On the other hand, Lynn was never overwhelmed with critical praise or achieved stardom until two years after her marriage when she appeared with Lunt in "The Guardsman."

Plastic Surgery

After an automobile accident in Paris I underwent a trivial operation at the hands of that great French plastic surgeon, Dr. Thierry de Martel. Since I first mentioned that I have been repeatedly asked, "can you recommend a plastic surgeon?" Dr. de Martel passed on during World War II. While I cannot recommend, from experience, any particular specialist, I can say some of the world's greatest plastic surgeons are in New York City. Not so long ago Jacqueline Auriol, French aviatrix, whose face had been completely disfigured in a plane accident, came to New York City for operations by the plastic surgeons of the Manhattan Eye, Ear and Throat Hospital. As a result, Mme. Auriol is once more a very good looking woman.

Passing By

Johnny Ray. The intense crooner. Johnny displayed a talent for music very early in life. When three years old he could play the hymn, "Rock of Ages" on the piano.

Asking

Queries from clients. Q—My name is Hoey. Could you mention some celebrities of that name? I have yet to hear of any. A—Well, yes, there was the great stage comedian, "Old Hoss" Hoey, who in the play "A Parlor Match" introduced the song, "The Man Who Broke the Bank at Monte Carlo." Also there was Jack Hoey, who played the outfield for the Boston Red Sox and Hoey of the highly successful vaudeville team of Hoey and Lee.

Oldest Daily

Feel honored by the fact that this column appears in the oldest daily newspaper in the United States, the Alexandria, Va., Gazette which was established in 1784. One of the Gazette's early readers was George Washington, our first President, a great sportsman, also raced thoroughbreds at Alexandria. At present Alexandria is one of the fastest growing cities in this country.

Smoking

You can't prove cigaret smoking is harmful by a fellow I have heard of. He has been smoking forty cigarettes a day for forty-two years. He is a veteran of World Wars I and II. At present he feels wonderful. Is actively employed and hasn't missed a day's work in years. I gave up smoking cigarettes at 14 and switched to cigars. Have been a cigar smoker ever since. My average is now eight cigars a day.

Rescue League Refuses To Rescue Raccoon

Boston — (U.P.)—Animal Rescue League officials refused today to "rescue" a raccoon from its perch on top of a telephone pole.

They said the animal, which has been there for two days, was perfectly comfortable and didn't need rescuing.
