On The Side

So Noel Coward is to be paid $35,000 a week for a Las Vegas, Nev., night club appearance. For a recent appearance in London's best night spot Coward was paid $2,500 a week and considered it magnificent remuneration. How is it possible for the Las Vegas gambling joints to pay such fantastic salaries to entertainers in their night club departments? The way things go in Las Vegas strongly indicates that Barnum's estimate of the sucker birth rate was an extremely conservative one.

Horses & Women

Grown up ladies are still fond of baby talk. That is making references to panties, scanties, nighties, hankies and tummies. The term "tummy" is a great favorite with the plump ladies. It is frequently used in connection with figure streamlining. As for example, it has been claimed of a certain type of girdle that it "trims the tummy and clips the hips."

Best Play

The best newspaper play in the history of the American stage is "The Front Page" by Messrs. Hecht and MacArthur. Was inspired by an incident in the career of that great Chicago city editor, Walter Howey. An opportunity for an equally successful play is afforded by the life story of another great and picturesque city editor. I am referring, of course, to that current best seller titled "For the Life of Me," the autobiography of the colorful and brilliant Los Angeles newspaperman, Jim Richardson. I would like to see Hecht and MacArthur dramatize Jim's book and have George Abbott direct it.

Historic Spot

There should be a commemorative tablet on No. 11 East Fourteenth street, Manhattan. On that site was the studio where Mary Pickford first appeared before a film camera. That was forty-five years ago. Mary's first film was titled "The Violin Maker of Cremona." Her second was "The Lonely Villa." That one, an old melodrama, was written by Mack Sennett, later to achieve fame as a comedy production genius.

Get It Right

Note it said that the novelist, George Sand, habitually wore "slacks." She didn't. She wore trousers. Slacks worn by women are designed for female wear. The construction is different than that of trousers which are definitely designed for male wear. Balzac, describing a call on Mme. Sand, wrote, "I found

George Sand smoking an after dinner cigar in front of a fire in an immense empty room. She wore lovely yellow slippers, bewitching stockings and red trousers."

Asking

Queries from clients. Q. Which is the greatest factor in a person's failure or success, heredity or early environment? A. Heredity is most important. If bad, that is, if a person inherits a weak or vicious character, it will contribute to failure or lack of success no matter how good the person's early environment was.

Bartenders

How good are the bartenders at your favorite pub? The following are said to be the chief qualifications of a good bartender. 1 — Complete knowledge of his trade and a sincere interest in it. 2 — Patience. 3 — A genial disposition and a neat appearance. 4 — A strong memory for names and faces to aid in recalling the favorite drinks of patrons. 5 — A talent for listening.

Passing By

Mae West. The Brooklyn Bonfire. Looks wonderful and still going so strong as an entertainer that she is rated the top night spot attraction in Manhattan.

Search Made Where Man's Foot Found

Hillsboro — (U.P.) — Washington County Sheriff Richard Busch said today he planned a thorough posse search of the Bonney Slope area near here where two boys on horseback found a shoe containing a man's foot last Sunday.

Sheriff Busch said it was possible the foot may have belonged to John J. Tomlinson, 88-year-old Cedar Mills resident missing since Oct. 2. The foot had been severed just below the ankle.

The State Crime laboratory at Portland said the foot may have been severed by a wild animal. It was found in a heavily wooded section believed to be the haunt of cougars, and some two miles from where Tomlinson's shirt was found the day after he was reported missing.

The sheriff's posse was to begin its search this Sunday.

LABOR LEADERS FAIL

Portland — (U.P.) — A delegation of labor leaders yesterday failed to reverse a Portland city council decision to discontinue 65 public works employees for economy reasons.
