Fill Lady's Stocking With Many Little Accessories

For your particular Christmas "she" make her stocking extra-plump this year, by giving her many useful little accessories, rather than just one gift.

In addition to the note of excitement this manifold gift offers, there's the extra thrill of selecting such items a gal does not normally splurge for herself.

For her purse — tricky coin purses, pill box, pocket flashlight, fitted cosmetic kit, a jeweled comb, a lipstick mirror — a personal-sized ashtray — are but a few of the accessories that a girl will admire and use.

For her desk or purse — a memo book, address book with pencil, a new pen or pen set — or, give her a box of note paper or stationery with her name imprinted! These are some gifts that can mean more — yet are just pin-money priced.

Conversation-making gifts for the high-school and college girl are appearing throughout the accessory departments. There are cuddly little collars of frosty white angora, colorful rib-knit turtleneck fill-ins for scoopneck dresses or sweaters. To go with the popular shirt fashions and high-necked sweaters, a leading scarf designer is presenting "old school ties" decorated with rhinestone and sequin sparklers.

When gift shopping, watch for the long striped scarf that is knitted in leading college colors! Also in college colors and bright solid shades is a snug stocking cap that is long enough to wrap around the neck several times and is finished with a huge wool tassel.

These Christmas gift notes promise bright ideas in wardrobe variety for fashion-wise girls!

Toiletries and Cosmetics Answer To Gift Problem

Gaily-packaged toiletries and cosmetics are a happy answer to the problem of finding low-priced remembrances for friends. They are sure to be a welcome gift—one that will be enjoyed for a long time.

Too, they are festive little gifts to hang on the tree or truck into Christmas stockings as an extra Yuletide surprise. Even the least expensive appear in such gala Christmas wrappings they have a look of luxury—and an added gift appeal!

All of the famous cosmetics manufacturers have a special Christmas collection of perfumes, toilet waters, bath accessories, and makeup combinations in decorative and imaginative packages for women of every taste and temperament, as well as glamour-conscious young girls.

For the younger set, there is a clever "Skater" gift set, which features an amusing little tinsel figure atop a powder and lipstick duo. A "Drummer Boy," whose uniformed body is a stick of solid cologne and his drum a box of dusting powder makes a cute gift idea for a young girl.

Particularly popular as gifts are the lovely satin-lined boxes packed with gift sets of fragrances and cosmetics. These will serve as glamorous jewel boxes after Christmas.

One manufacturer is featuring a series of glittering ballet slippers containing their famous toiletries. Another charming gift wrap is an angel's head with tinsel hair and a golden halo and wings covering bottles of cologne.

The more expensive gifts include beauty, or train, cases that are filled with a manufacturer's best-loved cosmetics. These are shown in a wide price range; one of the outstanding ones being an alligator airplane case completely fitted with cosmetics.

Vanities for gift-giving are stand-outs in every line. These are available in a complete assortment from styles to complement tailored clothes to bejeweled cocktail and evening compacts.

For a glamour-gift for an especially loved one—or for a gay little gift to a friend, wish Christmas shoppers will do well to check the gift-laden cosmetics departments!

HOLIDAY WREATHS — Della Robbia Christmas wreaths made for sale by Boys Republic of California at Chino. The colorful wreaths are fashioned from redwood foliage with seed pods, cones, and fruit after ancient ceramic wreaths.

Della Robbia Wreaths Made By Boys At School Farm

Della Robbia Christmas wreaths, famous for three decades, again are rolling off the production line at the Boys Republic, a singular, character building institution for teen-age youths at Chino, Calif.

Having grown from a six-wreath project in 1923 to a output of 13,000 annually, the Christmas wreath sale provides needed revenue for this unusual combined farm and high school where boys who have gotten off to a bad start in life learn to become good citizens.

All of the Republic's 125 "citizens," who help to support themselves by working at farming and other tasks while gaining an education, participate in the production and sale of the wreaths.

Patterned after ceramic garlands made in the 15th century by the Florentine artists, Luca and Andrea Della Robbia, the wreaths are woven of redwood foliage, with brightly gilded seed pods, cones and fruits native to California.

The Boys Republic, founded in 1907, is located on a 240-acre tract 35 miles southeast of Los Angeles. Its tree-covered grounds contain a score of buildings surrounded by fields planted to corn, alfalfa, wheat and other crops. The school also maintains a herd of 120 dairy cattle which is milked and cared for by the boys.

In its 47 years of existence this unusual school for boys has graduated more than 6,400 young citizens and more than 95 per cent of these students have become self-supporting members of society.

In Belgium and the Netherlands, St. Nicholas Day, Dec. 6, is celebrated with the significance of our Dec. 25. On that day in the Netherlands, "Sint Nicolaas," robed in clerical robes of red and white—not the American Santa Claus suit—comes to town. He is attended by Black Peter, his young Moorish servant who carries the presents.

Jewelry Counters Offer Wealth of Holiday Suggestions

This year, Christmas shoppers will find themselves irresistibly drawn to the costume jewelry counters for here they will find a wealth of gift magic!

There is just the right gift of imaginative costume jewelry for every woman on every Christmas list! Jewelry fashions, this season, have many moods, many aspects to satisfy every woman's need for variety and change.

Earrings are always a welcome gift for style-minded women and there are two trends that are destined to share honors for head-turning interest.

The bold, oversize button in everything from sleek tailored gold to huge cabochons of glowing jewel tones will make a popular gift choice. The other favorite is the shower earring. These appear in every imaginable variety from dainty decorative pearls spilling from gold-toned discs to exotic, multi-strand tone-on-tone brilliants that almost touch the shoulder.

Lustrous simulated pearls are always greeted with genuine pleasure on Christmas morning. Look for the 22-inch matinee length rope that rates high in fashion popularity. Chokers, pins, and earrings in the always popular pearls are lovely gift ideas.

The long rope is tremendously good in costume jewelry. Lengths of bead and gold ropes, sautoirs, and tasseled bead lariats of every description all create the deceptively bulky look that is so smart in costume jewelry. Massive and delicate gold chains by the yard offer still another aspect of the rope look. These chains are sometimes teamed with pearls or often end with conversational motifs such as urns or teapots.

Costume jewelry that is wrought in the manner of precious jewelry is well worth the gift shopper's attention. Marquise and emerald-cut stones are shown in real-looking versions of amethyst, sapphire, topaz, ruby, and emerald, as well as well as brilliant rhinestones.

THE RIGHT TOUCH — This "little velvet wrap" is a dressy-occasion spencer jacket designed for that right touch of elegance in your Christmas gift giving.
