

Flanders Message Said Sanctioned by Administration

Washington — (U.P.) — Sen. Ralph E. Flanders' Thanksgiving Day message to Russia over the Voice of America was strictly in line with administration policy, the United States Information Agency said today.

A spokesman added that the agency itself asked Flanders to switch his choice of words and address his statement to the "Soviet people" rather than the "Russian people." The purpose, he said, was to avoid offending minority groups in Russia.

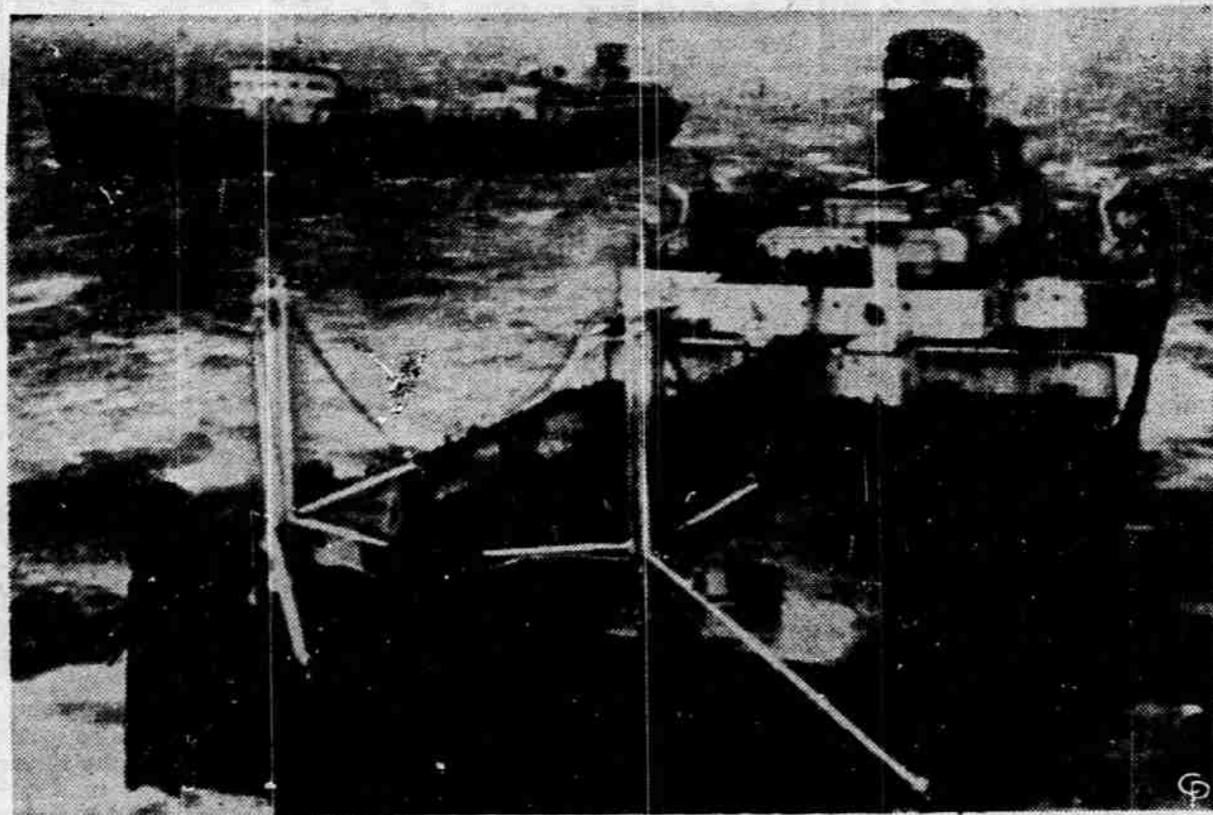

Furor by Jenner
Sen. William E. Jenner (R-Ind.) kicked up a furor in the Senate Tuesday when he shouted at Flanders, demanding to know what he meant "when he appealed to the Communist tyrants . . . as my friends, my Soviet brothers." He accused the Vermont Republican of "comforted, twisted thinking" and of helping spread "peaceful co-existence propaganda."

The USIA spokesman said the agency had asked Flanders to make a Thanksgiving Day broadcast to Russia after he had made several speeches on the need to get across to the Soviets "that we stand for peace." The message was recorded at Flanders' home in Springfield, Vt.

"He originally referred to the 'Russian people' and we suggested that this be changed to 'Soviet people' in accordance with administration policy," the spokesman said.

Message Translated
Flanders' message on disarmament plans proposed by the free world was translated for broadcasting purposes into Russian, Armenian, Georgian, and Ukrainian. The spokesman said that people speaking languages other than Russian and living in their own provinces would have been "insulted" if they had been referred to as Russians.

"What he said was very much in line with our foreign policy of real disarmament, peace, understanding and friendship with all peoples," the spokesman added. "Nothing he said is in conflict with the foreign policy of the United States or other Voice of America broadcasts."

Susan Hayes Takes Witness Stand To Tell Intimacies With Doctor

Cleveland — (U.P.) — Susan Hayes, 24, in severe black and looking demure on the witness stand, testified today that she had been sexually intimate with Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard from 1952 until three months before his wife was bludgeoned to death last July 4.

As the climax witness in the state's attempt to send the 30-year-old osteopathic surgeon to the electric chair, Miss Hayes testified that he had given her a ring in January this year, a watch in March and had expressed his love for her on several occasions.

She said he told her "he loved his wife very much—but not so much as a wife—that he was thinking of getting a divorce."

Beaten to Death
That was in the early part of 1953, she said, when she was working at a downtown Cleveland laboratory as a medical technician.

Later that year, probably in November, Dr. Sheppard said he had mentioned "something about divorce" to his wife, Marilyn, 31.

The state contends Dr. Sheppard beat his wife to death, probably with a surgical instrument, after quarreling with her about his affairs with Susan and other women.

On the witness stand, Miss Hayes sat quietly, licking her lips between questions by Prosecutor Thomas J. Parrino and lowering her eyes during pauses in the testimony.

She told of intimate relations with Dr. Sheppard in his automobile, in an apartment above his clinic in suburban Fairview Park, and during a seven day stay in the home of a friend in Los Angeles.

Wife Visited Friends
The Los Angeles rendezvous was last March. Mrs. Sheppard had gone with Dr. Sam to California but had remained with friends on a ranch north of Los Angeles. Mrs. Sheppard became pregnant during that California visit.

Miss Hayes left Cleveland for California after she quit her job at a hospital on Feb. 3 this year. She gave Dr. Sheppard the address of the Roy Shabla home, where she went to live in Downey, a Los Angeles suburb.

Miss Hayes said she first heard from Dr. Sam in March when "he called me on the phone and said he was in Los Angeles."

Home of Friend
Then, the next day, he drove to Downey, picked her up, and they went to dinner at the home of Dr. Arthur Miller in Los Angeles. Mr. Miller is a friend of Dr. Sheppard's.

They were at the Miller home "about seven days," she said. "Did you occupy the same bedroom with Dr. Sheppard?" She said she did.

She was on direct examination almost an hour.

A previous witness, Thomas Weigle, testified he saw Dr. Sam fly into a rage while the osteopath and his son were watching a cowboy and Indian television movie.

Beat His Son
Weigle, Marilyn Sheppard's first cousin, said Sheppard beat his son, Sam Jr., 7, for some two minutes because the boy playfully tapped his father on the arm.

Weigle's testimony followed that of Worth E. Munn, a manufacturing executive and uncle of the slain woman who told how Dr. Sam immediately after the murder had said he thought there were two intruders in the house when she was killed.

Dr. Sheppard in subsequent stories said that he grappled with one big, bushy-haired man.

Robinson Brothers Store Remodeling Work Completed

A new addition to Robinson Bros. store at 114 East Main st. was opened today for business, and as the result of the addition the stocks of all departments at the store have been increased from 20 to 25 per cent. Fred Robinson, co-owner said today.

The extra space, about 2,000 square feet, is devoted to a complete department of working men's clothing and all-weather apparel.

The new addition may be entered both from the main floor or from a rear entrance and off-street free parking area which is entered from South Front st. The free parking also is available for customers at Pick's apparel. About 10 cars can be accommodated.

New Fixtures
During the remodeling many new fixtures were added. This includes fluorescent lighting which gives true daylight colors to fabrics, Robinson explained. This is the first store in Oregon to be equipped with the new lighting, which was released for sale nationally on Oct. 1 of this year, he said.

Decorations in the store are done in ivory to coordinate with the lighting system.

The store will be open until 9 p.m. today, and until that time on future Wednesdays.
