Training Class For Camp Aides To Be Saturday

A meeting of the newly organized training group for senior Girl Scouts has been set for Saturday, December 4, at the Scout house from 10 a.m. to 12 noon. Girls in the group are being trained to serve as camp aides.

Those attending Saturday's session must take 25 feet of 3/4 inch manila rope or clothes line rope; three sticks 4 feet long and about 2 inches thick, some cheap but stout fishing line and a jackknife.

It is stated that girls not registered with a troop must do so Saturday. Those joining the group must be at least in the ninth grade and interested in learning the camp skills necessary to be a camp aide.

Stranger Remains In Portland for Second Concert

Portland — A program of traditional symphonic classics is in store for the next Portland Symphony Orchestra concert December 13 when the dynamic young Bostonian, Russell Stanger, will reappear to conduct Brahms "Symphony No. 2" and Mozart's "Jupiter" symphony. Also included on the program will be Smetana's Overture to the "Bartered Bride."

During the interval between his first concert last Monday and his second, Mr. Stanger will conduct eight school concerts, consisting of 16 one-hour programs, given free of charge to the school children of Portland and vicinity. He will also direct the orchestra's first Standard Hour broadcast of the season on December 19.

Tickets for the December 13 concert may be reserved by contracting the symphony office in the Park building.

Fifteen guests attended. The party was given while both hostesses and the honored guest were here from Oregon State college during the Thanksgiving holidays.

Photographic Art Now on Display In College Hall

Ashland—Outstanding reportorial photography by the contemporary Frenchman Brassai, Cartier-Bresson, Doisneau, Ronis and Izis, are being exhibited at Southern Oregon college this week.

Hours of the exhibit during the week are from 7 to 9 p.m. in the Art department rooms, Churchill hall. Saturday the exhibit will be shown from 5 to 8 p.m. and on Sunday from 2 to 5 in the afternoon.

The 85 works by these photographers were selected by Edward Steichen, director of the department of photography, Museum of Modern Art, for circulation throughout the country.

Henri Cartier-Bresson is represented entirely by his Asiatic photographs taken in China, Indonesia, Burma, Bali and Ceylon. Most of these are being exhibited for the first time and only a few have ever been published in this country.

Brassai at 52 is the senior member of this group. Both he and Cartier-Bresson have exerted a considerable influence, not only on French photography but also on the best photography in Europe. Work of both of these men has been published in the United States in Harpers, and by Cartier-Bresson in Life magazine. Photographs by Robert Doisneau have appeared in Vogue. The work of Izis and Ronis is practically unknown in this country. Except for the Cartier-Bressons, all the photographs in the exhibition were taken in Paris or in the provinces of France.

Membership Tea To Be Saturday

The annual membership tea of Medford branch, American Association of University Women, will be Saturday, December 4, from 3 to 5 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Ralph Thompson, 18 North Modoc avenue. Kindergarten Open Daily at Assembly

Kindergarten classes were begun this week at the Medford Assembly of God, 1108 West Main st., to provide Christian preschool training.

The school will provide a program for developing the children in essential preschool subjects. Some time will be devoted to the Bible on an entirely undenominational basis. In January the school will hold an open house at which time the children will be presented in a program.

Class sessions convene Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. Miss Ethel Jacobs is teacher for the school. Officers of the school state that children may be enrolled in the kindergarten at any time. Tuition is based on a monthly fee. Further information about the school or enrollment may be secured by telephoning 2-4292 or 2-3328.

A total of $143,574,952 in postal money orders was sold at overseas Army post offices last year. Fees totaling $803,712 were collected for the United States Post Office Department as a result of these sales.
