

Grants Pass Foe Tonight as Tornado Begins Conference Hoop Slate Here

The defending league champion and the club picked as most likely to succeed in 1933 come together on the senior high basketball court here this evening in one of two skirmishes inaugurating another 12-game hall for basketball quintets of the Big Four in the Southern Oregon Conference.

Medford plays host to Grants Pass high's Cavemen in a battle which matches two fast-moving aggressive contingents. It will be a tussle matching two clubs well-balanced in height, speed in shooting ability.

In the meantime speed also will play a role in a conflict on the Ashland high basketball court as the Grizzlies start a campaign this year to get out of the cellar to which they so often have been relegated. Ashland entertains Klamath Falls, a quiet boasting good all-around height and lots of ruggedness. Advance reports indicate that speed will be the main weapon of the Grizzlies.

Medfordites Best Cougar Wrestlers

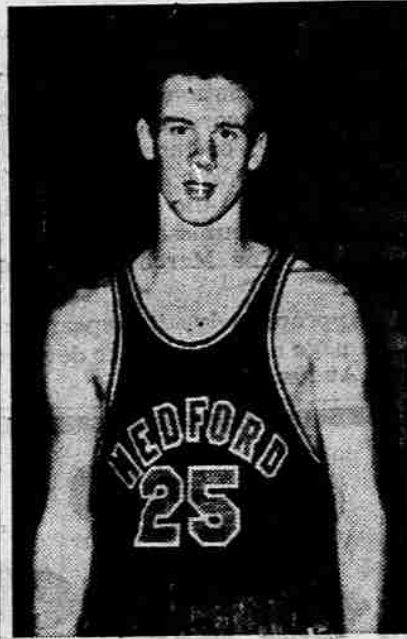

Medford high school wrestling team last scored its second easy win of the season over the Illinois Valley crew but looked forward to a tougher evening next Tuesday when it is host to the Grants Pass high aggregation.

The Tornado grapplers dropped only one bout on the regular card and only one in the exhibitions last night in registering a 51 to 5 decision over the Cougars.

In the 12 regular bouts Medford took six matches by pins, two by decisions and three by default. The defaults resulted when Ray Hilton's opponent, Mathews suffered a head injury and when the Cougars did not provide opposition for Paul Eckel in the 177-pound bracket and for Bill Dyer in the unlimited weight class.

against Medford. James and Reese, according to the Grants Pass Courier, have been slowed down a bit by colds in workouts in the early part of the week. They were expected to be in good shape for the hoop inaugural.

Bob Erickson appears to be the No. 7 man in the GP planning. Allen Drews, a short time ago reported out for the season, is getting back into the Caveman scheme, scrimmaging some on Tuesday. He was working in a line-up "which threw Medford-type plays at the regulars."

GOES AGAINST GP — Frank

Rector, above, a guard, is one of the sparks of the Medford high Black Tornado which tangles with the Grants Pass basketball team here tonight. Game time is 8:15 o'clock.

Substitutions will depend on how the game goes but Ed McCullough, Lloyd Clearley, Bill Cochran and Dick McLaughlin are among those who could get into action for Medford.

Same teams will play on Saturday night, Medford going to Grants Pass and Klamath staying at Ashland. Here tonight the varsity game is planned for 8:15 o'clock. Junior varsities vie at 6:45 o'clock.

 Chicago —(U.P.)—Ray Robinson's second "comeback" bout in a bid to regain the world middleweight title will be against Ralph (Tiger) Jones in the Chicago Stadium Jan. 19, the International Boxing club announced today.

BOWLING

Closing date for receiving entries in the city bowling tournament has been extended until Monday, January 10, it was reported today. A temporary schedule for the action has been posted at Medford Bowling lanes.

COMMERCIAL LEAGUE
 Ties still are the order in the Commercial Bowling league standings. Table Rock Lumber climbed past Crater Lake Motors when it took a 3-1 series from the Domestic Laundry and the Motormen could only split a 2-2 series with the Mail Tribune newboys. First National Bank and Quality Market kept pace with 3-1 series over the Beck Bakery and C and C Loggers, respectively. Alexander and Brown was held to a 2-2 series by Darling Real Estate while Valentine Cafe took 3 games from Bates Candy Co. High series for the evening was rolled by Ray Wise with his 214, 23, 202 for a 649.

EVERGREEN LEAGUE
 Second half of the Evergreen Bowling league began with some fine bowling by Jerry Burroughs of Tru-Mix, but it was not enough to take all 4 points from Sherwin-Williams Paints. This left the Pierce Auto-freighters in top spot with a 4-0 win over the Jorgensen's Dairy. Swift and Co. took a 3-1 win from Bel Air Chevs, and Barkers Local 289 took the same 3-1 series from Big Y Super market. Ray Speen rolled a 592 series for the Big Y, only to see it go down 3-1 in the series.

First half winner—City Slickers—had to settle for a 2-2 split with the First National bank.

Floyd Patterson Encounters Troy
 New York—(U.P.)—Floyd Patterson of Brooklyn, the sensational young light heavyweight who already is being considered for a title shot, will get his first genuine test against a knockout specialist tonight.

Patterson, a rangy panther-fast Negro who just turned 20 this week meets explosive Willie Troy of Washington, D. C., in a nationally televised and broadcast eight-round bout at Madison Square Garden.

Chiefs Scrap At Prospect
 Prospect—Free throw practice got the concentration this week as the Prospect high school basketball team prepped for Rogue River. It will be the first Jackson County B League tangle for the two schools.

Coach Wes Stauffer has reported that the Cougars have shown a lot of spark at times but has not been consistent. Listed as possible Cougar starters were Ron Couser and Frank Artimire, guards; Joel Walls and Lyle Poole, forwards; and Sid Peterson, center. Ken Oswald, Monte Ring and Don Andren may see much action in reserve roles.

Yellow Cab Quint Opposes Yrekans Here On Saturday

A Saturday night encounter in the St. Mary's high gym rounds out independent team basketball contention in Medford this week. Regular league scuffles for the week ended with three frays last night but Yellow Cab will add to a full week by being host to the Yreka All-Stars. Tip off time is 8 p. m. Cabmen now share top perch in the Medford Independent circuit. The club is made up of ex-high school players of this area, bolstered by a couple of cagers from one of the top AAU teams in the state last year. A roster of the California team is not available but the Cabbies anticipate having their hands full.

Utah Rolls; Penn Barely Tips Harvard

By JOHN GRIFFIN
 United Press Sports Writer
 Utah, Pennsylvania, and St. Louis—three teams with high hopes of winning conference championships—moved a stride ahead in their campaigns today, but only Utah found the going easy.

The Utes, solid title choice in the Skyline conference and ranked the No. 7 team in the entire nation, displayed the class that earned it those ratings as it drubbed Denver, 82-38, Thursday night on the opening night of the Skyline's official season.

But Pennsylvania needed Bert Leach's jump shot with seven seconds left to score a 54-52 win over Harvard in the Ivy league, and St. Louis had to go into overtime to beat Houston, 85-84, in the Missouri Valley conference.

At Denver, Coach Jack Gardner used every man in the squad as Utah rolled to its eighth victory in 10 games. The Utes, who leaped to national prominence last month by upsetting LaSalle, were paced by six-four Art Bunte who tallied 21 points, and Morris Buckwalter, who had 17.

In other opening night games in the Skyline loop, Utah State walloped defending champion Colorado A&M, 85-68; Montana nipped Wyoming, 44-42; and Brigham Young trounced New Mexico, 92-62.

Pennsylvania's one-basket win came only 24 hours after the Quakers had squeezed past Yale by exactly the same margin and it kept them up there as a title contender in the Ivy league along with Cornell, Dartmouth, and Princeton.

Harvard could have scored an upset, but it couldn't handle the 6-foot 4-inch Leach. His short jump shot for the winning basket gave him a game-leading total of 28 points. The score had been tied at halftime, 28-28.

At Prospect the score with EP was deadlocked at 67-all at the end of regular playing time. Ted Greb topped the Eagle five with 19 counters but Jim Linderman of Prospect was high man with 28.
